WE NOMINATE

the hundreds upon hundreds of Princetonians of all ages who over the Holiday Season opened their hearts to others in contributing more than $3500 to the Twentieth Annual Town Topics Christmas Appeal. As we move into the New Year, in a world palsied by doubt and thirsting for peace, it is reassuring to know that Princetonians over two decades have now given $57,924 so that thoughtful and specialized assistance can be extended to those seeking understanding and a sense of security.

For their uplifting generosity; for taking to heart his community's human needs; for refusing to permit others less fortunate than themselves to remain in the morass of despair where tomorrow is all too often another cold, cheerless day; these perceptive neighbors of ours are our nominees as Princeton's

This Is PRINCETON

A TIGER ON THE MAP in the World of Roundball. It is an intriguing fact that Princeton basketball teams arouse more comment and create more excitement in many parts of the nation than they do in their own home town.

Two winters ago, Bill Bradley's Tigers walloped Providence, then rated the best in the east, to win the NCAA regional championship by the astonishing score of 109 to 69. When the result was announced in Madison Square Garden, a capacity crowd roared and whistled its approval for more than a minute. There was a measure of commotion on the University campus, and the team got a warm welcome on its return home next day, but only a relative handful of sportsminded Princetonians found it more than a topic of passing interest.

A fortnight ago, the current Princeton team had more than lived up to early-season hopes by winning its first five, including resounding upsets of Villanova and Davidson where the losers rarely lose — on their own home courts. On Saturday, December 17, a Tiger quintet that gave every indication of being able to play the best in the nation on even terms met Navy, a name that always draws well, in Dillon Gymnasium. The University's Christmas vacation had started, and with the undergraduates out of town, several hundred seats went unsold.

Not So in Carolina. No such lack of interest exists in many another town or city where basketball is a winter way of life. In the college town of Chapel Hill, for example, despite the fact that the University of North Carolina was still on holiday schedule Monday, some 8,000 jammed Carmichael Fieldhouse to watch the Tarheels take on the Princeton Tigers.

At game's end, North Carolina's undefeated (9-0), third-ranked team was a solid 91-to-81 loser to Princeton—so convincingly that hundreds of fans departed several minutes before the final whistle. By the time next week's AP and UPI polls are released, the Tigers seem certain to become the first Ivy League team to be rated within the top ten during the regular season.

Bradley's 1965 third-place NCAA finalists made it in late March, but none of the Ancient Eight has rubbed shoulders with the likes of UCLA, Louisville, Texas Western, Cincinnati and New Mexico State during the early going in the roundball sport.)

"H" IS FOR HAARLOW, AND ALSO FOR "HOT:" Junior John Haarlow typified the fine basketball Princeton is playing this season when he sank 11 of 13 shots against North Carolina for a highly unusual 85% average. For a report on the headlines the Tigers have been writing on the nation's sports pages, see "This Is Princeton."

The triumph over North Carolina, a top team in the ever-rugged Atlantic Coast Conference, was achieved with some of the best basketball Princeton has ever played. Against an opponent of the Tarheels' stature, Coach Bill van Breda Kolff's operatives shot a fantastic 65.5%, combined their hot hand with a degree of defensive skill that cooled the home team so effectively that in the space of just four minutes, the Tigers had erased a 56-50 North Carolina lead to tread 65-56, Princeton.

Despite one of the most arduous 800-mile trips ever taken by a team—following less than 48 hours on the heels of an emotion-packed three-day tournament in Philadelphia—the Orange and Black was ready to go the distance. Paced by five straight points from 6-9 Chris Thomforde, already a veteran as a sophomore with a scant month of varsity action behind him, the visitors moved out to an 11-7 lead. By no means unable to meet such a surge, North Carolina gained the game's momentum, moved out to a 29-21 advantage and watched contentedly as "quaterback" Gary Walters picked up three fouls in 12 minutes, giving way to replacement Dave Lawyer.

Moments later, Thomforde, too, had three fouls, but he stayed on the floor, making his 11th point to help Princeton draw even at 29-all. When John Haarlow (at 6-7 the tallest, best and lost of three brothers to play here) rang up a three-point play on a steal just before the half-time buzzer, the Tigers served full notice of their upset intentions by taking a 38-37 lead into the dressing room.

Again, North Carolina was equal to the occasion. Seven minutes after the half had started, the home team was in front, 56-50, and the 8,000 fans were roaring their pleasure.

That Fabulous Bench. As has been the case so often this season, it was reserve strength that balled the Tigers out. Thomforde's fourth foul early in the second half necessitated his withdrawal, and into the pressure-packed contest came Princeton resident Robby Brown to give the best clutch performance of his career.

Contributing five points during a hell-for-leather seven-minute stint, he blocked and recovered North Carolina shots that set Princeton fast breaks in motion. Haarlow continued his unbelievable accuracy; Joe Heiser and Walters ballhawked beautifully. Captain Ed Hummer, out of action in the Quaker City final with an intestinal virus, was near exhaustion after 40 minutes of topflight basketball, but will live to tell his grandchildren the tale.

Once more in the closing minutes did North Carolina threaten to make the game end as most people had expected it to. The home team crept to within two (75-77) but Thomforde converted both fouls on a tense one-and-one situation, and the gap quickly and surely expanded from there. Heiser stole, and a lay-up swished; Thomforde again made two free throws; Haarlow hit on his patented jumper that doesn't are but bee-lines, and Walters laid in a field goal just before the buzzer that set basketball fans in Kentucky and California, New York and Michigan, buzzing with surprise.

Tie say nothing of North Carolina.

How to Win at Basketball

Plenty of relaxation, good food and a good night's sleep. Best winning formula for a keyed-up basketball team making an 800-mile trip to play a nationally-ranked opponent on its own court?

No such thing. The accepted procedure — at least after Princeton's experience in upsetting North Carolina Monday — is to book a plane, which never leaves the ground because it is too foggy to land in Raleigh.

So you catch a train, so solidly loaded with Florida-bound citizenry that your entire squad stands up all the way to Washington. In the nation's capital, you think in terms of a hot meal in the diner and maybe a chance to sleep the rest of the way.

Not at all. They take the diner off, you grab what sandwiches and soda you can. Then sit up in coaches the rest of the way.

You arrive at your motel at 7 15 a.m. — about 12 hours later than planned. Your dog-tired squad — three of whom had spent two days in the infirmary with an intestinal virus — crawls wearily into bed and sleeps until mid-afternoon.

Then you go out and beat the nation's third-ranked team on its own floor by ten points.

This Is Princetan

One B for Another. For perfectly good reasons, it took Princeton a year to learn to play basketball rather than bradleyball. The three-year All-American, many of whose records will last for a couple of generations, is gone, but if the Tigers haven't got Bradley, they have something they never had when he was here.

The word is balance Against North Carolina, their field goal shooting was a sizzling 65% not because one or two players were constantly on target but because all five starters were in the neighborhood of 50% or better. After ten games, every one of the regulars is averaging in double figures—a record very few teams in the nation can match.

D—as in Defense. But if there are a dozen, or a score of teams in this basketball-happy land whose five starters do all manage double figures virtually none of them can blend such an attack with defensive ability. Against Villanova, Princeton set a Quaker City Tournament record by committing only seven fouls—a vital asset in a game that was decided by three points.

Louisville coach Bernie Hickman called Princeton "the best defensive team we have met." It is twin assets of this nature that made it possible for Princeton to outscore its opponents in such streaks as 15 to 2 (North Carolina), 25 to 4 (Navy) and 24 to 6 (Davidson).

BEST IN 22 YEARS: Bill Van Breda Kolff's direction of Princeton basketball team to 9-1 mark is best since 1932-33 quintet won 13 of its first 14. Current Tigers may well win 20 before losing two.

Despite the appeal of winning an Ivy League title, the immediate future for Princeton will inevitably be something of an anticlimax as the Tigers meet their more traditional but less powerful opponents. Nonetheless, the race will gain in interest as the winter grows older, particularly with the home-and-home contests against chief challenger Cornell not scheduled before late February.

Ahead lies probable participation in another NCAA Tournament, and beyond that, the blending of holdover varsity material with what may well be the strongest freshman team in Princeton history. Across the width and depth of the U.S. basketball map, there is the shadow of a Tiger—even though more people talk about it in Philadelphia and Peoria than in Princeton, N.J.

WHERE'S HOME ROOM? Every kindergarten-through-fifth-grade child is a pin on the big map in the Stony Brook Administration Building of the Princeton Regional Schools. This reduction released this week by the school board, shows where each of those K-5 youngsters will go to school next fall, if the board approves the re-alignment plan. Parents who live on boundary streets may check out their assignment on the master map in the administration building.

HERE IS SALARY SCALE

And Budget. The Princeton Regional School Board adopted a preliminary budget of $5,194,400 at a special meeting held Tuesday night (public hearing on January 24) and then released the controversial 1967-68 teachers' salary scale (public hearing next Tuesday, January 10, at 8 p.m. in the high school.)

The budget breakdown: $4,591,300 for current expenses; $155,100 for capital outlay; $448,000 for debt services.

In a letter to the board, read at Tuesday night's meeting, Fred Zenone, president of the Teachers' Association, asked whether teachers would be given "equal time" next Friday to outline their opposition to the board's salary proposals.

Dr. Harvey Rothberg, president of the board, told Mr. Zenone that the board did indeed expect the teachers to speak, but he added "It will be a public hearing, not a debate or a public negotiation session."

Where Do I Go? As planned, most of Tuesday's meeting was devoted to an explanation by Dr. John McKenna, acting superintendent, of the proposed "Middle School" for sixth, seventh and eighth graders, and to the proposed re-alignment of elementary school zones, both scheduled to go into effect next September. (See map.)

Projecting plans and diagrams on a screen, Dr. McKenna told the audience of about 75 that the staff had re-aligned school zones so they could stay re-aligned and not have to be re-drawn every year or two.

Lines are drawn, Dr. McKenna said, to maintain an optimum class size of 25 children, achieve a balanced integration pattern in each school, reduce the number of times most children change schools from kindergarten through high school and give more classroom space to the overcrowded high school.

The re-alignment "integrates" Borough-Township Negro-white youngsters, Dr. McKenna said. Under the new arrangement, all Birch Avenue children will be bused to Little Brook, all Leigh Avenue children bused to Johnson Park, all John Street and Race Street children to Riverside, all Witherspoon Street children who live north of the intersection with Birch, bused to Little Brook.

Integration. Howard Waxwood, praised by Dr. McKenna for his logistical skill in planning the realignment, told Tuesday night's audience that Negro children make up 8% of the overall school population, kindergarten through five.

In the new pattern, Mr. Waxwood said, Johnson Park will have 8.5% Negroes; Riverside, 5.4%; Little Brook, 8.4% and John Witherspoon, 8.6%.

Dr. McKenna added that approximately the same number of Negro and white children would be bused — about 430 in the K-5 age group.

The new arrangement, Dr. McKenna emphasized, is "without Rocky Hill." If Rocky Hill children remain, they will be assigned to various buildings on a space-available basis. "The inclusion of Rocky Hill removes much of our elasticity," Dr. McKenna said. The board was scheduled to discuss the Rocky Hill problem in executive session.

Middle School. The proposed "Middle School" will encompass all children in grades six, seven and eight. They will attend Valley Road and Community Park buildings but the names of these two schools would be eliminated under the new plan, and the two buildings "campus" called "The Princeton Middle School," a single entity under one principal.

The re-assignment of pupils, Dr. McKenna said, will mean that Princeton High School will be able to use some John Witherspoon classrooms as a well-equipped science room, the "shop," which will be moved to the Middle School and two additional classrooms made by dividing the large John Witherspoon home economics room.

These would be interim solutions until overcrowding at the high school is permanently solved, Dr. McKenna said.

Combining Valley Road-Community Park into one Middle School means a saving of two teachers, Dr. McKenna said. He explained in the flurry that followed, that this doesn't mean two teachers will be fired only that present teachers and space will be used more efficiently.

He said that faculty committees are now working out curricula, organization, guidance programs and so on, for the Middle School and the K-5 sector. Eugene Bermner, now principal of Community Park, told the audience that meetings for parents of Middle School youngsters would be held on May 23.

Orren Jack Turner, Borough resident who was an opponent of merger, told the board that one of his children would attend five schools in ten years although merger proponents had stated that four schools would be a maximum.

Mrs. Edwin Lotz, of the school's guidance staff, urged the board to lower the 25-1 pupil-teacher ratio. Teachers in the audience applauded her.

Mrs. Suzanne Fremon, Board member, said, "It isn't an ideal ratio, but it's the best we can do with the money we have. I myself would like primary grades especially to be lower than 25-1."

The board did not act on the Middle School or re-alignment proposals.

Pay. The salary scale divides teachers into three categories by college degrees: BA, MA and MA plus 32 credit hours. The highest percentage increases come in the lowest brackets of each category, and the top brackets of the MA-plus-32. Higher brackets represent additional years of experience.

The scale provides that a newly hired teacher with an AB degree will receive $6,000; with an MA, $6,200; with an MA plus 32 credits, $6,700. An earned doctorate brings an additional $600 to each bracket of the MA-plus-32-credits category.

A current BA teacher earning $5,400 would be raised to $6,200 for an increase of 14.8%. A current MA teacher earning $5,700 would be raised to $6,400 for an increase of 10.9%. An MA-plus-32-credits employee now earning $6,000 would be raised to $6,900 for an increase of 15%.

The highest percentage increase is an MA-plus-32 teacher now earning $6,500. The raise would be $1,000, or 15.4%.

In the BA category, the highest figure is from a current $9,400 to $10,000 or 6.4%. This is the lowest percentage increase. In the MA category, the present top of $9,900 would be increased by 11.1% to $11,000.

In the highest bracket of the MA-plus-32-credits scale, the top of $10,400 would be raised to $12,000 or 11.5%.

The maximum raise is $1,200 for the year. In the five highest brackets where the pay scale calls for raises of $1,400 to $1,600, the balance would be made up in the following years.

Copies of the full salary scale are available in the Stony Brook Administration building.

COINTREAU GUTTED

In Pennington Fire. Fire companies from seven communities fought to contain a blazing fire Tuesday which threatened to level Cointreau Ltd of Pennington, a distillery plant for liqueurs and brandies. Pennington Police Chief James Delleffanche reported that all of the nearly 100 employees managed to escape safely.

Fed by thousands of gallons of alcohol, the blaze sent columns of fire and dense black smoke skyward. For a time it was feared that portions of the walls of the long concrete structure would fall, but none did. Sections of the roof, however, did collapse. There were no explosions.

The fire was first discovered at 3:15 p.m. by office manager John Fitzpatrick, who noticed black smoke drifting from the ceiling. It was brought under control shortly after 6:30. The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

An investigation has begun to determine the extent of the loss. It was reported that all company records were lost in the fire which was confined to the office and warehouse sections of the plant.

The leaping flames drew hundreds of onlookers. Traffic on Route 69 was jammed, causing delays of more than an hour, as State Police had blocked off a section of the highway to all except emergency vehicles.

Fire companies called to the scene were from Lawrenceville, Hopewell, Union, Pennington Road, Yardley-Makefield, West Trenton and Montgomery Township. An ambulance stood by but was not needed.

Same Old Thaw

Snow that slips

Turns everything
Into a muddle.

Puddles will be the order of the day for a while, what with temperatures scheduled to rise somewhat above normal through the weekend.

WE'RE STILL HERE

Governing Bodies Reorganize. In symbolic gatherings assuring the continuity of local government in Princeton, Borough Council and Township Committee met at noon on Monday in their respective town hall meeting rooms.

It was the 31st and last such meeting to be held in Borough Hall. As Mayor Henry S. Patterson reminded the audience in his address, the opening Council meeting of 1968 will be held in the new Borough Hall now under construction.

And in Township Hall, Mayor Carl C. Schafer told his constituents that, although the Township planned no major new projects for 1967, the municipality will explore this year the matter of a new and larger Township Hall.

Mayor Schafer was again elected by his fellow committeemen to the position of "chairman," which means he will be mayor of the municipality. It will be his third year as mayor.

Year of the Schools. Both mayors took note of 1966 as the historic year of the school merger. Mayor Patterson said: "We must now and we will, move forward to take full advantage of this opportunity for the best possible school system. I am confident that this can be accomplished and that the rancor and controversy that have been far too often a part of our school affairs . . . will now be things of the past."

Mayor Schafer expressed the appreciation of Township Committemen to Township school board members "who,

HE FLIES THROUGH THE AIR with the greatest of ease, the daring young man on these "Silver Skis." A color film portraying action on the ski slopes of the world will be shown at McCarter Friday night at 8.

News Of The THEATRES

"DANIEL," IN LATIN Costumes, Too. Musical and theatrical detective work was necessary before the 12th-century "The Play of Daniel" could even be asembled, much less presented before a contemporary audience.

It will be given in Alexander Hall this Saturday at 8.30 p.m. in the production first presented in 1958 at the Cloisters of New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The original manuscript contained only the sketchiest material, consisting of scattered notes without precise pitches, words written in a shorthand scrawl and nothing in the way of stage directions.

"The Play of Daniel" was famous in its time, however, and had toured widely through England and France, so the editors of the 1950's had paintings, commentaries, tapestries and sculpture to fill in where composers of music had left gaps.

The Alexander Hall performance will feature the soloists of Pro Musica—vocal and instrumental—boy choristers from the Church of the Transfiguration in New York and an augmented cast of actors and singers.

EXCEPT ANTARCTICA On Skis. John Jay has made ski movies on every continen except the snowiest of all: Antarctica. Brushing the powder from his parka, he will stomp into McCarter this Friday at 8 p.m. to narrate in person "Silver Skis," an account of a quarter century in the ski-film business.

Mr. Jay's film will show old-time buffs the good old days of baggy pants, classic races and snows long melted. Youngsters will be delighted with footage on the 1965 Olympic races at Vail; ski acrobat Art Furrer; the incomparable Stein Eriksen and that thrilling High Route—100 miles on skis across the snowy roof of Europe, from the Matterhorn to Mont Blanc.

Next year: the Antarctic.

DOWNER TO TALK To Players. "The Earliest American Theatre" is the subject chosen by Alan S. Downer for a talk before members of the Princeton Community Players this Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in Murray Theatre. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Dr. Downer is chairman of the English department at Princeton University and a member of the McCarter Theatre Community for the University. Before his talk, Leo Brannick, president of the Players, will review production details of "The Absence of a Cello," which is the Players' January presentation.

MUSIC In Princeton

CELLIST COMING

In University Series, Janos Starker, cellist, will play a program from the romantic and contemporary repertoire when he comes to Princeton next Monday as the second artist in Series I of the Princeton University Concert Series.

Mr. Starker, a professional performer since the age of 10, is a native of Hungary and a member of the faculty at Indiana University.

For his Princeton program, he has chosen the Schumann Fantasiestucke, Beethoven's Sonata No 3 in A and Kodaly's Sonata for Unaccompanied Cello. Standing room tickets are available now at the McCarter box-office.

STERN TO PLAY

Has Varied Program. Composers as wide in difference as Bartok and Fritz Kreisler will be represented on the program when Isaac Stern brings his violin to McCarter on Monday, January 16.

Mr. Stern, with his accompanist Alexander Zakin, will play Tartini's Sonata in G minor called the "Devil's Trill," the Bartok Sonata No. 1, Schubert's Sonatina No. 3, Opus 137 and short works by Kreisler, Karol Symanowsk' and Ravel. The Ravel will be the famous "Perpetuum Mobile."

SERENADE, PLEASE

By Instrumentalists. The Nassau Serenade and Divertimento Society, a consort of under-and-post graduates devoted to the promotion of chamber music, will give its second concert of the season next Friday, January 13, at 8:30 in the Woolworth Center. Admission is free.

The musicians will play Vivaldi's Concerto in F for violin, flute, oboe, bassoon and harpsichord; the Mozart Quintet in E-Flat for piano and winds; the Beethoven Serenade in D for flute, violin and viola, and a woodwind quintet by David Isperstein, a sophomore in Princeton University's music department.

CONCERT PLANNED

At New School For Music. Pianists Richard Chronister and David Kruchenbuhl will present another in the "Piano in the Round" series at 8 p.m next Friday, January 13, at the New School for Music Study, 353 Nassau Street. The concert is open to the public without charge.

The two pianists have made a specialty of performing music originally written for piano duet and during the past several years have given concerts in Dallas, San Francisco, Washington, D. C.; Chicago and other cities as well as in Princeton.

The January 13 program includes four pieces from Weber's "Pieces for Four Hands, Opus 60," from which Hindemith took the themes for his Symphonic Metamorphoses. Also to be heard are Debussy's "Six Epigraphes Antiques," originally written for voice and piano and later re-scored by the composer for piano duet, and Brahms' rarely-performed "Variations on a Theme of Schumann, Opus 23."

and will outline plans for future plays.

FLICK!

Where's Charlie? Charlie—Chaplin, that is—joins Buster Keaton, Flash Gordon and the Pink Panther in the "Mirth and Merriment Festival" at McCarter Friday, Jan. 13. The fourth annual "Festival" has been designed for everybody in the family. Admission, $1, is available at the door.

Featured works will be Chaplin's comedy, "The Adventurer;" Buster Keaton's "The Navigator" and the Laurel & Hardy "Sailors, Beware!".

Cartoons will include three "Pink Panthers," "The Violinist" (an Academy Award winner) and chapter three in the current McCarter series, "Flash Gordon" with Buster Crabbe.

Next Wednesday, January 11 at 8, McCarter will present Francois Truffaut's "Jules and Jim," with Jeanne Moreau.

MEN AND WOMEN . . .

From Shakespeare. Scenes from Shakespeare that display the extraordinary range of possible relationships between men and women, will be set before McCarter audiences when John Gielgud and Irene Worth perform "Men and Women of Shakespeare" on Sunday, January 15 at 3.

The first part of the Gielgud-Worth program is called "Pastoral-Comical." Starting with a few songs and sonnets, it goes on to the bickerings of PEWTER?

Gift Cards, Too. In a little nook of a gift shop called The Millstone in the new shopping center in Montgomery Township, you'll find a rack of Hallmark greeting cards 40 feet long, and if that doesn't take care of every birthday in your family, you must have more relatives than a millionaire.

The center we refer to, of course, is the new one on Route 206, just north of the Route 518 intersection. Nice, big parking lot. Nice little gift shop.

In addition to all the Hallmark cards, The Millstone has Hallmark papers and ribbons, and all those Snoopy and Peanuts greetings the kids love to receive.

But there are hard goods, too, as they say in the trade. The Millstone is particularly proud of its woodenware and its pewter and its "pewter" and well it might be.

We'll start with those quotation marks, if you don't mind. They refer to some unusual British pottery made in Beswick, England, and glazed so artfully that it looks exactly like pewter. Lift it and feel how light it is, and only then will you realize it's not metal. There are ashtrays, an urn for spoons or flowers, an intricate conch shell vase, candy dishes, and so forth.

Then comes the real thing, also from Beswick, England. We mentioned weight; well, you can also tell by the price tag, because a fine pewter bowl is $39 and that's a lot of potato chips.

This Beswick pewter is very dark pewter grey with a softly satin finish. That bowl is oval, with a rim wrought in classic scroll shape and the patina look of a genuine antique.

A tankard in the classic form is $17, a charming little pewter lamp with milky glass shade is in the same price range. There's a milk jug with narrowed neck and sturdy handle and a pair of square-base candlesticks to light your way to that tiny bedroom under the eaves. The pewter hour-glass, over 12 inches tall, would be a most unusual accessory to a study.

Moving to the copper table, we find a nice warm fondue chafing dish ($34) which glows with a cheery warmth even without the steaming melted cheese. A standard chafing dish, larger in size, will accommodate those meatballs for hungry winter guests. A hammered copper milk jug, and tea-kettles in all sizes, including one with a pleasant combination of blue flowers against the white of a handle, would brighten any wintry kitchen.

At the table with the brass, as they say in the military, you'll find a $15 pair of little wall sconces, a smooth-topped silent butler, leaf ashtrays and delicate candlesticks with brass twists for a stem.

About that woodenware — we liked the staunch candlestick turned on a lathe like an old bannister, and the middle-sized salad bowl with a convenient handle. (Great for popcorn.) The towel rack for a roller towel, the roll of memo paper in a wall rack or the spindle napkin holder would bring warmth and charm to an early American kitchen-dining-room.

The crazed glass of Pilgrim pitchers and vases, bright in turquoise, amber, olive or clear, makes a pleasing pattern against a window. The smoky glasses with Where's White?

Elsewhere, if we remember our catalogue correctly, you'll find an account of the outline and texture of a white dress at Elise Goupil's shop.

Actually, it's almost unique of its kind, this cruise and spring year. Everything else is color, especially luminescently bright pastels and upswinging classic plaids (see The English Shop's sports jackets.)

The only thing in white we found at The English Shop was a man's business shirt, the Madison Avenue kind that never gets farther south than Wall Street. Men are as colorful in their plumage as their mates, in case ornithologists care to make a note.

Funny thing, though — that white dress, lone little bird, is one of the handsomest of all clothes we saw.

Oberon and Titania, the idealistic adolescent wooing of Lysenno and Jessica, the heading rashness of Romeo and Juliet and the mocking of Rosalind and Orlando.

In the second part, "Historical-Tragical," Sir John and Miss Worth will present two choruses from "Henry V," the plotting of Duncan's murder by Macbeth and his lady, Cleopatra and Anthony and the redemption of King Lear by his reconciliation with his child, Cordelia.

NO MORE WAITING

"Godot" Is Coming. "Waiting for Godot", Samuel Beckett's contemporary classic, will be combined with plays from many eras in the spring drama series to be given in repertory by the McCarter Theatre company starting February 3.

Besides "Godot," the company will present Eugene O'Neill's "The Emperor Jones," Shakespeare's "The Tempest," the Plautus farce called "The Braggart Warrior" from which "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" was adapted, and Goldoni's "The Servant of Two Masters."

Free to Subscribers. McCarter's symposium on the nature of comedy, free to everyone who buys a subscription ticket, will have a new panel member. Edmund Keeley, chairman of the Creative Arts program at Princeton University, and a novelist who teaches creative writing in the University's English department, will join Rosemary Harris, and Ellis Rabb of the APA company. Alan Downer, chairman of the English department at Princeton; Dr. Max Bogart, arts and humanities coordinator for the New Jersey State Department of Education and Arthur W. Lithgow, executive director of McCarter Theatre.

The symposium will be held on Wednesday, January 18 at 1 p.m. at McCarter.

PLAYHOUSE

The Endless Summer (now playing) Two young California surfers, Mike Hynson and Robert August, travel around the world trying the surfing in each country. Their 35,000 mile journey chasing the sun and surf takes them across the equator four times and into such areas as Senegal, Ghana, Nigeria, South Africa, India, Australia, New Zealand, Tahiti and Hawaii.

It took two years to film this 95 minute documentary. There is good musical accompaniment and a clever narration to go along with the spectacular, exciting scenes, filmed in color.

matching pitcher, are good for moderns who like old-fashioneds, and that pine bar with its woven-seat stools will make you ask for seconds.

CHECK THAT SLACK

Sun Coming Up. Got a man? Buy him the pale lemon yellow slacks at The English Shop with the grey gingham and crossbar checks proudly swaggering against the yellow, and he'll be so devastatingly handsome you'll have to build a fence around him.

These sun slacks — you are going south, aren't you? — also come in the kind of Madras that requires sun-glasses, and in a black-white Glen plaid with overchecks to make it even Glenner. These slacks, in dacron and rayon, also come in navy blue with white and in tomato-mayonnaise red and white, if you're not a salad man.)

The wear-with-all for all this giddy checking around, is a solid-color jacket. English Shop has solids in 14—fourteen — colors, including a plenitude of reds, a passel of yellows including the sun, more greens and blues than the sea, and a terribly suave natural.

It's New To Us

There are solid-color slacks, too. Our favorite is the pale lemon yellow, but the brashness of the brass is pretty exciting, too. Olive, claret — well, you know how linen is. These come from Corbin, Ltd. the English house.

There are Bermudas for guys who like to show their knees, and the colors here include a pale steel-blue. Seersucker jackets this cruise and spring, will be Glen plaid in blue, brown or olive. Navy or red windowpane checks — a very small window — block themselves out against the cream of one light-weight jacket; Blazer stripes in blue and grey against maize yellow will turn every head, including yours.

A silk-wool jacket goes back to that Glen plaid again, crossing it this time with bars of claret red. And it also comes with red bars across a pale gold Glen plaid, and that one you've got to see.

English Shop is watching the delivery man for stay-press dress and sport shirts, the kind that dry in two or three hours and never need an iron. Better than your wife or the laundry.

BRIGHT AND PRINT

Plumage for Southern Birds. You'll buy an airline ticket south the minute you see Elise Goupil's silky ensemble with its light wool coat. We mean the short-sleeved silk print with soft turtle collar and princesse cut.

The dress is an extraverted print of shocking, lime, royal and white done in interlocking discs and circles — bright as a tropical sea.

The dress-length coat is a fine-knit turquoise wool with six little self buttons down from the collarless neck — doesn't need a collar because that dress collar turns right over the coat. The coat, needless to say, is lined with the same bright print.

Another ensemble, a bit more subdued, has a raw tangerine silk coat textured and rich, with matching shift and a lining of a tiny silk print. This print turns up again in a second shift, so if you buy ensemble, pick up the second dress and get yourself a threesome. The tangerine coat, by the way, has been slit almost to the thigh on both sides, to give an interesting panel effect.

An A line dress has been fashioned from a peacock-tail print of high tropical colors. Look again and the pattern seems to be a cluster of giant chrysanthemums. Blues, Blues and greens make the print, and a hem of lemon peeks out from the hemline and the edge of the long, bell-shaped sleeves.

Palest yellow in light wool crepe makes a short-sleeved dress with curving princess seams. Rhinestone buttons go down the side, but you may have self buttons if you wish.

Those deep sea blues and greens surface again in a chiffon print outlined at round neck and short sleeves with a band of phosphorescent beads.

McMullen unpacks a surprise: it looks like a classic McM., with minute beige or willow-green floral print against white dimity. But look again, because it's really the softest pure silk. Tiny vertical tucks are all over, from the McM. collar to the hemline, and there is a lining to keep it all in shape.

In case you think nobody is wearing white any more, Goupil has a bark-textured dacron in chalk white, with stand-away collar, brief sleeves and vertical pocket flaps.

Light-weight wool suits for travel, cool days or late spring right here in Princeton, come from the house of Kensington, where they have been devised with little square and swinging jackets, and harmonizing blouses.

One that we saw is a rose in modified berryphone, another is a pale willow. The bright cherry red has a dark print blouse.

over the years, contributed to developing the fine school district we possessed at the time of the merger."

He also thanked the current board: "The results they have obtained in so short a time have been tremendous. We hope successive boards will be able to match them in determination, dedication and results."

Taxes. The mayors also scanned the tax picture. Mayor Patterson warned of higher taxes and reminded Borough residents that a tax rate rising out of proportion to wage levels could drive out Borough residents with lower incomes.

He said this kind of change could seriously harm the community: "All residents and businesses should join with the Borough government to see that it does not happen," he stated.

Mayor Schafer said the Township's capital budget was lower than it had been in several years, but he reminded property-owners that the successful police referendum last fall would mean an "unprecedented rise" in salary accounts.

He added that most other Township employees would receive increases, too. "We hope new rateables will offset most of this salary increase," the mayor said.

And Up Ahead . . . Looking forward to 1967, Mayor Patterson listed new parking and traffic regulations, the revised Master Plan, a new zoning ordinance, consideration of parking garages and the assignment of Miss Fine's gym as items on the Borough's agenda.

The complete text of Mayor Patterson's address is on page 20, and of Mayor Schafer's address on page 32.

Two new Councilmen were sworn in to service on Borough Council. Charles W. Cornforth will be the new chairman of the Finance Committee and Robert Hendry will be the new Fire Commissioner. In addition, Mr. Cornforth will be Council's representative on the Board of Health and Mr. Hendry will be Council representative to the Housing Authority. Alfred Sorenson was elected Council president, succeeding William Walker.

Mayor Patterson appointed Fred M. Blaicher, defeated Republican candidate for Borough Council, to a three-year term on the Board of Health with W. Landon Dennison. The mayor also named Frederick M. English to a four-year term on the Local Assistance Board. Mr. English was an unsuccessful candidate on the Republican ticket in 1965.

Albert E. Hinds and Roger H. McDonough were appointed to three-year terms on the Zoning Board, Richard W. Colman to a five-year term on the Shade Tree Commission and Samuel G. Davison to a five-year term on the Fire Prevention Bureau.

As previously announced, Theodore T. Tuttle, Jr. will continue as magistrate for another three years. Gordon D. Griffin will again serve both Borough and Township as municipal attorney. Mr. Griffin was named for a one-year term.

Across the Line. In the Township, two Council Committee members were sworn in on Monday. David Thompson received the portfolio of taxation and engineering-public works. John Wallace will be concerned with recreation and Open Space and will be Committee's Planning Board representative. Committeeman William L. Wilson was elected deputy mayor.

In appointments, Committee named William T. Suttphin, 8 Laurel Road, to the Planning Board to an unexpired term ending in June, 1969. Committee also appointed Walter B. Foster, whose term as Committeeman ended December 31, to a six-month unexpired Planning Board term, ending in mid-June.

Mrs. Gordon Knox was named to a three-year term on the Joint Historic Sites Commission; Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer, H. Russell Butler Jr. and Eric B. Endersby to three-year terms on the Open Space Commission; Mrs. Simeon Moss to a two-year term and Mrs. Virginia Moody to a one-year term on the Local Assistance Board and Mrs. J. K. Deliano to a five-year term on the Shade Tree Commission.

BACK TO SCHOOL

For Adults, Too. Now that vacations are over, adults will soon be heading back to school along with their children. The second term of the Princeton Adult School, which begins January 26 at the high school, will offer a varied curriculum, including a completely new Drama Workshop. (See advertisement, pages 24-25.)

The Workshop will be conducted by Mrs. Susan Rosenbaum of the New Group for Theatre, who has studied dramatic art at Brandeis and Catholic Universities and has worked with several New Jersey theatre groups. The course will include improvisation and scene study and will seek to develop both imagination and technical ability.

A course in "Personal Finance" will be given by Carl C. Storey, business manager of Princeton Day School. Mr. Storey holds a B.S. and an M.A. in business administration and economics from the University of Arkansas. He was the youngest man ever elected president of the National Association of Business Officers of Private Schools and is currently working to establish a similar association in New Jersey.

After a brief introduction to the fundamentals of economics, the course will take up various topics related to family management including saving, borrowing, budgeting.

Summit Conference

An historic meeting will be held next Wednesday when members of the Princeton Regional School Board sit down with the Borough's mayor and Council and the Township's mayor and Committee to talk about the school budget.

The purpose is not only to talk about that $5 million, but to learn more about the way each governing body operates. In the past, Township School Boards used to confer occasionally with Township Committees about the school budget, but this new regional gathering is a "first."

BE PREPARED

With winter vacation activity in full swing, more and more families are turning to their health team — the physician and Thornes' Pharmacy—to get added mileage and enjoyment out of their trips.

Like many things, good health can't be taken for granted. Checkups with family doctors are essential before departure. So are visits to The Thorne Pharmacy to stock medical kits with prescriptions, medications, and first aid items.

Vacationers with cronic conditions such as diabetes, heart disease, asthma, arthritis, epilepsy, to name just a few, are well advised to carry sufficient drug supplies to last the entire trip. Travelers should also be prepared for minor afflictions to cover antihistamines, antidiarrheal agents, and antifungal preparations.

JANUARY 5, 1967

to: the citizens of princeton
from: the teachers of princeton

Our Teachers' Association has, in the past, demurred from challenging the conservative position of the Board of Education regarding salaries. We can no longer accept their conservative position. It is inconsistent with the ideals of excellence in Princeton education. In its insistence on maintaining this traditional position, the Board has unfortunately undercut the morale of the teachers. Here are two distortions responsible for this situation.

It is misleading to suggest that Princeton teachers' salaries will rank in the 95th percentile in New Jersey. The fact is that this statement represents the Board's annual prediction. It has never become a reality!

It is a distortion to use percentages such as, "10% and 22%." The Board would have you believe that they are offering each teacher a 10% raise. In fact: to a B.A. teacher with five years experience, the Board offers a raise of 4.35%. To a teacher with eight years — 2.56%. To a teacher with ten years — 2.33%. Obviously this does not reward professional growth.

Princeton is a proud community and especially proud of its schools. The excellence which this community expects must be maintained. We need excellent salaries to attract and to keep excellent teachers.

tower, investment and insurance.

Mrs. Lore Liedenfeld will conduct a workshop in weaving. Each student will work on his own loom, learning first the basic principles, such as braiding and then advancing to more advanced constructions and embroidery.

A course in "Pattern Design" will emphasize the design and execution of children's clothes, as well as adult fashions. Participants will be encouraged to make their designs into finished patterns and from them to make their own garments.

Mrs. Juanita Wardly will conduct this class. Students do not have to be expert seamstresses to take the course. All that is needed are pencils, unlined paper, scissors and tape.

"Geology for Beginners" will be taught this year by Erling Dorf of Princeton University. The course will examine the processes that have produced major physical changes on the earth. Specific topics will include earthquakes, glaciers, mountain building, running water and volcanoes.

These are only a few of the offerings in an extremely varied curriculum. Since registration in most classes will be limited, students should register as soon as possible by completing and mailing the coupon on page 25 of this issue.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED

Walking on Route 518. Norman W. Eberle, 70, was killed a few minutes after 4 Monday afternoon, when he was struck from behind by a car while walking on Old Georgetown Road (Route 518) in Franklin Township, Rushed to Princeton Hospital, he was pronounced dead on arrival.

State Police from Princeton Barracks, who investigated the accident, said Mr. Eberle lived by himself on Old Georgetown Road in Kingston. They added that he apparently had no relatives living in the Princeton area.

Charges against the driver, Henry H. Bellman, 53, Orchard Road, Skillman, are pending. Trooper Charles Stukis is conducting the investigation.

In the Borough, two drivers were slightly injured last week in a Nassau Street mishap involving two cars, a parked van truck and a parked car.

Patricia A. Sirolli, 19, of Trenton, was taken to Princeton Hospital for treatment of a punctured lip and abrasions of both knees. Ralph F. Medeiros, 28, of Yardville Bridge, driver of the van truck, received a cut on the top of his head but refused medical attention.

The multiple crash was triggered when Gertrude Beyer, 48, 343 Prospect Avenue, parked her car near Charlton Street, then opened her door into the flow of traffic. The door was struck by the Sirolli car which then swerved left into the path of the van approaching from the opposite direction. The van was driven sideways into a parked car owned by Charles L. Bardwell, 65 Dodds Lane.

Mrs. Beyer was ticketed by Pfc. Arthur Jackson for obstructing traffic.

The same day — last Wednesday — at 10 in the evening, Frances Frankel, 31, 215 Ewing Street, sustained a bruise on her forehead after her car skidded on Washington Road into the rear of a car operated by Joseph Sferra, 23, 345 Witherspoon Street.

Police said there was ice and snow on the road. The accident happened near the intersection of Canal Road.

The Books They Gave os Christmas Presents

Non-fiction seemed to sell better this Christmas than fiction in Princeton's book-stores, so put down that novel and get in the swim. Here's the Christmas best-seller list.

FICTION

"The Secret of Santa Vittoria," Robert Crichton. This picaresque adventure maintains its number One position for the fourth month in a row. (Public Library, Princeton Book Mart.)

"Valley of the Dolls," Jacqueline Susann. A racy way to begin the New Year. (Male's Book Shop).

"New Yorker"Cartoon Books. Witherspoon Art & Book sold these old favorites to many customers.

NON-FICTION

"Miracle at Philadelphia," Catherine Drinker Bowen's warm and human account of the drafting of the Constitution. (Public Library).

"Andrew Wyeth and His Art." (Male's Book Shop).

"Paper Lion," George Plimpton. That football-player again. (Book Mart, University Store).

Napoleonic books, especially "Memoirs of Marbot," (Witherspoon Art and Book).

"The Captain," Jan de Hartog. A novel of the sea. (University Store).

RECOMMENDED . . .

"Diaries and Letters: 1930-1939," Harold Nicolson, Upper class England in the '30s. (Public Library, University Store).

"America and The Americans," John Steinbeck. Handsomely illustrated, if you're spending a Christmas check. (Male's).

"Oxford Comparison to American History," Thomas H. Johnson (Book Mart.)

GETS 20 DAYS

In Assault Charge. In a special hearing held Monday afternoon, Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. sentenced Richard Lockhard, 19, to 20 days in jail for assault.

Alan P. Fort Jr., 146 Nassau Street, manager of P. J.'s Pancake House, 154 Nassau Street was the complainant. He charged that Lockhart had assaulted him while creating a disturbance in the Pancake House on October 8. Lockhart, he testified, had struck him several times, knocking off his glasses and cutting his lip.

The defendant was arrested by Township police armed with a warrant, and turned over to Pd. John Markuson of the Borough police. Lockhart, who gave police a Leigh Avenue address at the time of his arrest in October, told the court on Monday that he lived at 201 Witherspoon Street.

Lockhart was arrested after he failed to appear at a pre-sentence investigation. Borough police added that previously he had also been instructed to visit his probation officer and to appear in court. He failed to do either.

$391 IN MEAT TAKEN

From Seminary Building. Meats valued at $391 were reported stolen Friday morning from a locker in the kitchen at the Campus Center building on the Theological Seminary campus.

Thomas Bryan, superintendent of grounds and buildings, told police the theft occurred between 4 Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. A window on the northwest side of the center had been broken to gain entry, Borough police said.

YLVISAKER NAMED

To State Post. Paul N. Ylvisaker of Cranbury has been named as the first Commissioner of Community Affairs for the State of New Jersey. Governor Richard Hughes announced the appointment last week.

Dr. Ylvisaker has been director of the public affairs program for the Ford Foundation and in 1961-62 and again in 1965-66, he was visiting professor of politics at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University.

He will begin his new duties on March 1 at a salary of $30,000 a year. Governor Hughes is expected to submit Dr. Ylvisaker's name to the Senate on January 10 for confirmation.

TO STUDY BIRDS

In Stony Ford Class. The Stony Ford Nature Center will offer an "Introductory Bird Course" beginning next Wednesday, January 11. Douglas Dickinson, the Center's director, will instruct.

Topics to be considered include the use of binoculars, bird topography and classification, feeds and feeders and bird problems. Mr. Dickinson will emphasize the importance of wildlife preservation.

TWINS BORN

To Hightstown Couple. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Epstein of 108 Wynbrook Gardens, Hightstown, became parents of twin boys on New Year's Eve in Princeton Hospital.

In all, four girls and 12 boys were born at the hospital during the week ending January 1.

Girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Bachman, 150 Prospect Drive, Hightstown, December 25; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Klein, 3 Shelley Road, Kendall Park, December 27; Mr. and Mrs. David Cook, 142 Taylor Terrace, Hopewell, December 31, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Farrands, 403 Morris Avenue, Hightstown, January 1.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Green, 33 Clay Street, December 26; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Doyle, Woodside Avenue, Hightstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaff, Westerlea Apartments, Hightstown, both on December 27; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Williamson, 8 Walton Drive, New Hope, Pa., December 28; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blutstein, 6 Pine Drive, Roosevelt, December 29; Mr. and Mrs. William James, Airport Road, Hightstown; Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Gilli, Shady Rest Trailer Park, Hightstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Geza Szsztak, 74 N. Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, all on December 30; Mr. and Mrs. John Holden, Dorchester Apartments, Cranbury, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Marshall Puckett, 180 Franklin Corner Road, Trenton, both on December 31.

STRICTLY FOR THE (SMALL) BIRDS: Mrs. George Mellor and Mrs. Arthur Byers are shown with "selective" bird feeders built during the shop session of Introductory ornithology course they took at the Stony Ford Nature Center. Mrs. Byers' sunflower feeder is intended strictly for small birds and will "dump" or unbalance larger birds when they alight on the perch. The course is being offered again, beginning this month, at the Nature Center.

BOOK GALAXIES IV

For Princeton Teen Dance. Winners of the world champion rock 'n roll title, the Galaxies IV, will provide the music for the Joint Recreation Committee dance for Princeton teenagers this Saturday in the Princeton High School gym.

The Galaxies have appeared in Princeton a number of times during the past few years, playing at two Princeton University military balls and at the Prospect Street club dances.

The dance is scheduled for 8 to 11:30 p.m. Participants are restricted to students in grades 9 through 12 who live in Princeton or attend a Princeton school.

COSMIC RAY IS TOPIC

Of Amateur Astronomers. "The Strange Realm of the Cosmic Ray" will be discussed by William S. Beggs of the Forrestal Research Center at 8 p.m. this Tuesday at the monthly public meeting of the Amateur Astronomers Association of Princeton, held at the YMCA.

"Like letters from a distant land, cosmic ray particles bring information from the vast depths of outer space, both near and far," according to Commander Joseph L. Richey, USNR, Ret., program chairman. "They tell of magnificent and sometimes tragic events. Equally amazing is their nature and speed of travel . . . When they collide with other particles, like the atoms of the upper reaches of the earth's atmosphere, a cascade of secondary particles results. Mr. Beggs will discuss the characteristics of the ray particles and the importance of the research results."

Mr. Beggs has been on the technical research staff of the Princeton-Pennsylvania Accelerator at Forrestal since 1963. A graduate of Grove City College in 1949, he has done extensive post graduate work in physics at Drexel Institute of Technology.

He served with the Fourth Marine Division in World War II and was a member of the Naval Technical Mission to Japan immediately after the war. He worked for DuPont in explosives, and from 1949 to 1963 for Atlantic Refining Company where he conducted low temperature research and catalysis with hydrocarbons.

Dear Savings Member:

The year 1966 was a very unusual year in our financial community. The confusion arose over interest rates and the availability of funds for mortgage lending. Your association is pleased to report that, generally speaking, we feel the period of uncertainty has passed. Now we can be more hopeful that government policies this year will stabilize the business community and assist the economy to continue at a high level.

Probably the most significant event last year was the enactment by Congress of the law which provides you with insurance up to $15,000.00 on a savings account. We urge you to take advantage of this new benefit and increase your savings at Princeton Savings and Loan Association. As you know, Congress has placed all financial institutions under rate control, and only savings and loan associations can now pay you the highest rate of return on your savings.

Your Board of Directors is pleased to report that your savings are now earning 4½% per annum, compounded semi-annually, on savings passbook accounts. In addition, a new 5¼% certificate is available, upon application, to all depositors who wish to leave their money on deposit for one year. These certificates will be issued in amounts of $1,000.00 and multiples of $1,000.00 thereafter. If for some unknown reason you should have to withdraw at any regular dividend period, your money will still earn 4½% per annum for that period, an exclusive with savings and loans.

We feel the above new dividend structure is the best available to you with the highest rates in the area. Money added to savings accounts by the 15th of any month earns from the first.

Your association has progressed well during the past year and our earnings were excellent. For your added protection we have put into reserves an amount over and above that required by law. The year holds great promise and we are pleased to announce our methods of sharing our anticipated earnings with you.

Every good wish for a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous New Year.

Sincerely,

B. F. Bunn

ter" next Wednesday, January 11, at 8 p.m. in 101 McCormick Hall on the University campus.

As authority on Renaissance art, Dr. Hartt was one of the first American scholars to arrive in Florence after the floods. He estimates that it will take at least 20 years to complete the restoration of works damaged by the waters.

Returning from his recent mission on behalf of the Committee to Rescue Italian Art, he reported that Florence was "an indescribable scene of desolation" and estimated that its art had suffered greater damage than during World War II. Dr. Hartt's lecture will be sponsored by the University's art department and the Committee to Rescue Italian Art.

IT'S OURS

Bainbridge House. Gifts totaling more than $16,000 have been presented to the Historical Society of Princeton as it moves into historic Bainbridge House — the former public library building — and prepares to make it a center for information and research.

In ceremonies held Tuesday — the 190th anniversary of the Battle of Princeton — acting president Bruce French presented a silver dollar to Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University, and the Historical Society's new landlord. The university is making Bainbridge House available to the Society at a dollar-a-year rental.

Rudolf A. Clemen, president emeritus of the Society, announced the gifts at Tuesday's ceremonies. One gift "in excess of $5,000" is from Mrs. William T. White in honor of her grandfather, the Hon. Thomas Stubbs Allison, secretary of state of New Jersey from 1851 to 1861. Mrs. White is the mother of Mrs. George H. Cook III.

A second gift, of $5,000 comes from The John Schmidt Foundation through Mrs. Luther P. Eisenhart, who is herself presenting the Society with $1,000 in memory of her husband. Mrs. Eisenhart is the widow of a former Dean of the Graduate School of Princeton University (1933-45) and honorary president of the Historical Society.

A third gift of $5,000 comes to the Society from Mrs. Sherley W. Morgan.

Mr. French observed, as he presented the dollar to Dr. Goheen and accepted a key in return, "I know of no other community the size of Princeton which has played so vital a role in the history of the United States. All of us who live here should be aware of this rich heritage."

ANNUAL MEETING SET

By Historical Society. The Historical Society of Princeton will hold its annual meeting on Monday, January 16, at 8.15 p.m. in the new public library.

Business of the meeting will include the election of new officers and board members and the consideration of proposed changes in the constitution and by-laws. Librarian Robert Staples will conduct members on a tour of the new library after the meeting.

THANKS TO ALL

From Santa Claus. Many Princeton merchants, business firms and a number of individuals contributed to the fund raised on behalf of Henry Schultz, Princeton's octogenarian telephone Santa Claus.

Mr. Schultz handled hundreds of telephone calls from children throughout the Princeton area in the days before Christmas, performing the community service for the 18th year. Over 80 and blind for the past two decades, he has expressed his heartfelt thanks to everyone.

Gifts on his behalf were solicited by the Woman's Club of Princeton. The list of donors includes:

Obituaries

A private service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Dr. Leon W. Gibson of Princeton Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Louis Eiselbach, 78, formerly of Tenafly, died on December 30 at Wyman House, Springdale Road.

Mrs. Eiselbach was the mother of Mrs. Colin Pittendrigh of Springdale Road, with whose family she came to live in June, 1965.

Peyton Craig, 55, of 21 Yard Avenue, Trenton, died on January 1 in Mercer Hospital. Born in Princeton, he was a lifetime resident of this area.

Mr. Craig was president of the Cooperative Citizen Club of Trenton and a member of the Reindeer Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth L. Craig; three sons, James and John of Trenton, and Grayson of Binghamton, N. Y.; two daughters, Mrs. Sarah Adams and Mrs. Virginia Thomas of Trenton; his stepmother, Mrs. Harriet Craig of Princeton; five brothers, Royal, Jay, Lloyd and Eric of Princeton and Ross W. of Trenton; seven sisters, Mrs. William Mack, Mrs. Frederick Porter, Mrs. Isadore Ware and Miss Lois Craig, all of Princeton, Mrs. Ruth Jenkins and Mrs. Charles Sambro, both of New York City, and Mrs. George Miller of Philadelphia.

The service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Union Baptist Church, Trenton. Interment will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Gertrude S. Jenkins, 58, of 118 Leigh Avenue died on January 1 in Princeton Hospital. She was a member of Mt. Pisgah AME Church.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Rubye A. Carswell; a brother, Moses Smith, and five sisters, Mrs. Eva Mae Edwards, Mrs. Jennie M. Wethers, Mrs. Emma M. Turner, Mrs. Ruby Simmerman and Mrs. Helene F. Hodge, all of Florida.

Arrangements were incomplete at press time.

Mrs. Winifred N. Ward, 82, 18 Chestnut Street, died January 3 at her home. A native of Waterville, N. Y., she had lived in the Princeton area for 40 years.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Eugene Margerum of Princeton, and Mrs. Joseph Kanny of Farmingdale, L. I.; two sisters, Mrs. Burton Palmer and Mrs. Agnes Clare, both of Utica, N. Y.; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

A service will be held Friday in Utica, with burial in St. Bernards Cemetery, Waterville.

John H. Bryant, 56, of 23 Greenbrook Drive, Cranbury, died December 30 in Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was the husband of the late Mrs. Elsie C. Bryant.

A native of Southampton County, Va., Mr. Bryant was employed at Forsgate Farms for 23 years. He was employed by Walter Gordon at the time of his death.

Surviving are a son, Glen M. Bryant of Cranbury; two daughters, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Jonie Mae McCrimmon; five grandchildren; five sisters, Mrs. Willie Moody, Mrs. Susie Cobb, Mrs. Virginia Cogsdale, Mrs. Bertha Stephenson and Mrs. Helen Joyner, all of Suffolk, Va.; and two brothers, Walter of Suffolk, Va., and Thomas of California.

The service was held in Cranbury, the Rev. James Darroch, pastor of the Dayton Presbyterian Church, Franklin Park.

CORRECTION

The obituary of Mrs. Ruth McC. Tooker of 149 Hodge Road and Sea Island, Ga., printed in last week's issue incorrectly stated that she was a widow. Her husband, Dr. Norman B. Tooker, survives her. Also surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Anne F. Cotton of Princeton and Mrs. Ruth T. Calloway of New York City; three grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

NEW JERSEY BELL

I RESOLVE IN 1967 TO . . . Win Augustine (left) has his reputation in mind and Dougal Stuart his pocketbook when it comes to making New Year's resolutions. For how long each thinks he will be able to keep his resolution, see below. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: What is one New Year's resolution you plan to make and how long do you think you will be able to keep it?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Dougal Stuart, Featherbed Lane, Hopewell, student, North Country School, Lake Placid, N.Y.: Not to spend so much money on worthless junk—and I'll be lucky if I keep it a week.

Win Augustine, 41 Pardoe Road, Valley Road School: To quit swearing and get a better reputation. I expect to keep it all year.

Aaron Knobel, Trenton, surveyor: I promise to stay married to my wife for at least a year. I plan to keep it all year. (Mr. Knobel was recently married.)

David Sweeney, 15 Murray Place, PHS senior: Not to waste any money so I can save up for a car. I'll keep it until I have enough money to buy a car.

Tom Lipmann, Cranbury Road, Princeton Junction, student, Notre Dame High School: To stay out of trouble to the best of my ability, and I'll keep it to the best of my ability.

Tom Rowe, 9 Turner Court, FHS senior: To change my vocabulary. People who know me will know what I mean. I think I'll keep it forever.

Chris Wright, Murray Place, PHS senior: To stay out of trouble on weekends—I'll keep it all year—and for the people of Princeton to make resolutions in favor of teenagers. We need every favor we can get.

Valerie Rice, 16 Fisher Avenue, PHS student: To try to go to all the public dances at the churches in town, a resolution I'll be able to keep all year.

Meridith Stevens, 40 Bertrand Drive, PHS sophomore: To get a job and keep it, and come in at a decent hour. How long will I keep them? Not very long.

Mary Holland, 79 Deer Path, PHS sophomore: To get better grades. I'll keep it one marking period.

Paige Levill, Trenton High School student: To hold my temper. I'll keep it until someone gets me mad.

Carol Ann Tamasi, 487 Ewing Street, St. Paul's School: To keep up with my studies. I'm going to keep that for the rest of the year. I'm going to get in there and fight.

Kastje van Breda Kolff, Ma-gie Apartments, Valley Road School: To go on a diet and stay on it. I'll probably stick with it until the end of February.

Craig "Teek" Brower, Plainsboro, PHS senior: To quit partying it up and start studying. I better keep it the rest of the year or else I'm dead.

Nancy McCloskey, Prospect Avenue, PHS student: Not to eat so much. About a week.

Julie Proscelnl, 114 Linden Lane, PHS student: To devote more time to studying than to dating. Keep it till the first good-looking boy goes by.

Richard Moran, Canal Road, Rider College student: I resolve not to procrastinate any longer in school work and in studying. I'll try to keep it the whole year but I doubt if I can.

Ron Harvey, B.M.I. student: To get better grades in math. About two weeks.

Jacque Jones, former Princeton resident from Atlanta, Ga., student: To start eating more. I have to put on some weight. I hope I keep it the whole year.

Darius Hammer, Locust Lane, student at Casper, Wyoming prep school: To procure my own flock of sheep. I love sheep.

Candy Miebael, 63 Hemlock Circle, PHS student: Not to eat a lot of sweets. I'll probably keep it until the end of February.

David Yatvin, 6 Crest Hill Road, Lawrenceville, student: To obey the laws of New Jersey. How long? About a week.

Lynda Stein, Trenton High student: To stop laughing. I laugh all the time, but I doubt if I'll keep it more than five minutes.

Mayor Patterson's New Year's Day Address

This is the sixth time that I have had the honor of addressing the Council and citizens of the Borough of Princeton, at this the first Council meeting of the new year.

It has become an annual opportunity for me, as it was for my predecessors as Mayor, to review briefly the year just completed and to take a forward look into the year just beginning.

Nineteen sixty-six was an unusually busy year even for Princeton. In a world always faced with change and crisis, we in Princeton are apt to think of our community as ever the same and free from the unpleasant problems which others have. We hear the annual election plea of "let's keep Princeton, Princeton," which is to say that nothing that has been done or is happening has changed our town.

But there have been changes in Princeton — new buildings, new streets, new problems — and it is with a feeling of deep satisfaction to your Borough government that these changes have been accepted as necessary for our community and not as projects which have or will destroy it.

We, that is the entire community, have been willing to face up to our local problems with the objective of solving them, not just pushing them aside. I am confident that this community attitude will continue so that Princeton will remain an outstanding residential, educational, and business community.

Major Challenge Solved. The most important change which took place in 1966 was the creation of a single school system for Princeton. Last January 1, I called this the major challenge before us in 1966. The problem was successively met and solved.

We must now, and we will, move forward to take full advantage of this opportunity for the best possible school system. I am confident that this can be accomplished and that the rancor and controversy that have been far too often a part of our school affairs over the last few years will now be things of the past.

In specific terms, 1966 saw the completion of, or substantial progress on, more community facilities than in any one year that I can remember. These were not facilities planned by one man, but projects that have been talked about and worked on by many people over a surprisingly long period of time.

The community swimming pool complex, the new Joint Public Library, the housing for the elderly on Harrison Street, the extension and relocation of Wiggins Street to provide a true parallel route to Nassau Street, the new Borough Hall, and the major renovation to the Township-Borough incinerator facilities are the major items which come to mind.

Tax Increase Forseen. Except for the housing for the elderly, the improvements just listed, and others of less monetary importance which I have not mentioned, will add dollars to the 1967 Borough municipal budget and will be reflected in higher local purpose taxes. All of us who live, work or shop in Princeton Borough will directly or indirectly pay more either in taxes or through higher prices for goods and services.

There will also be other factors which will increase our 1967 budget over last year—particularly the request for increases in police salaries and the effect such increases will have on the salaries of other Borough employees. I am certainly not bemoaning the fact that we have a new library or that we will soon have a new Borough Hall, nor do I mean to be critical of the police or any other person or group who believes that they are not being adequately compensated for their services to the community. Rather, I consider each of the project's as necessary and forward looking and I support the fact that Borough salaries and wage rates must be re-examined.

My purpose in stressing increased taxes, apart from its factual importance, is to point out what should be obvious to all, namely that improvements cost money and that the Borough must depend upon the local taxpayer for the money for these improvements.

Upward Trend Opposed. While the improvements so far undertaken are necessary, we must be careful not to permit an upward tax trend to continue to unnecessary and undesirable levels. Much of the Borough budget cannot, as a practical matter, be controlled by the eraser of the finance chairman. We must be competitive in salaries, in interest rates, and in obtaining and giving certain services. But as these improvements and services increase your tax costs, you, the citizens of the Borough, must examine more closely what additional new services and facilities you may want or can afford.

As I have said before, a tax rate rising out of proportion to other economic factors — for instance area wage levels — could drive from our midst those residents with lower incomes. If this should happen, it would be the kind of change which could seriously harm Princeton. It is not the kind of change that can or should be taken in stride.

I am not clairvoyant so that I cannot predict with accuracy that the Borough tax rate will rise sharply each year for a number of years or that, even if this did happen, that Princeton would lose some of its oldest and most respected residents. Nevertheless, it could happen and all residents and businesses of Princeton Borough should join with your Borough government to see that it does not happen.

There seems to be an increasing tendency today to let or even make the government do it, whatever it may be. Your government is expected by some—I do not know whether they are in the majority or minority — to provide, at taxpayer expense, all kinds of facilities and services. In every case they are desirable facilities or services; but how desirable are they — enough to warrant continued tax increases?

The Mayor and Council have their opinions on these questions. The proponents have theirs. But what about the many citizens who hardly ever attend Council meetings? I urge you to be heard through your presence at Borough Hall or through organizations which do exist or should exist to represent you. I can think of no better reason for the construction of the new Borough Hall than that it will provide comfortable and adequate meeting room facilities. I know that the Borough Council joins me in urging you to take advantage of these new facilities and attend Council meetings. In this way, more of us can join together to make the right decisions for the future of Princeton.

Reproductions Of Early American Furniture

At Cane Farm, woodworking is a labor of love. You just can't turn out custom furniture on an assembly line basis. Each detailed step is hand-tooled with the techniques of days gone by. If you think this artistry has passed from the current scene, come visit us and see the fine work we turn out. In our new all-electric showroom, a converted farm building, you can browse among samples of the twenty-five or more different pieces we make. And you're perfectly welcome to take a look at our woodworking facilities, too. But don't expect to see a slam-bang operation! Old-time craftsmanship requires T.L.C.*

Public Opinion Sought During 1967 and beyond, there will be various important matters about which decisions must be made and about which the public should express their opinions. First on the agenda will be the 1967 Borough budget.

In the ensuing months, we will have under consideration such things as suggestions for new parking and traffic regulations; a revised master plan; a new zoning ordinance; the advisability of parking garages and how they should operate, proposals for future street improvements; the need for additional traffic lights; the use of the former Miss Fine's gymnasium, now Borough property; and the relationship of the youth of our community to the community in general, including, of course, Princeton University.

I know that discussions about the youth of our community and the methods by which the Borough, parents, and the community working together can improve the behavior of and opportunities for our youth will take up a considerable amount of time during 1967. The Nassau Street problem — for lack of a better expression — has received wide press coverage and therefore there is no need here to go into details.

The problem, however, has not been limited to Nassau Street. We have had disturbances and complaints in other parts of the Borough. There have been many suggestions as to what should be done and we plan to explore each suggestions that appears reasonable. One side problem is to make sure that if a particular suggestion is adopted, it will not interfere with a program already under way.

Juvenile Officer Due. We will have a full-time juvenile officer; we are considering the possibility of Borough or community social workers; we are working with the various groups already in existence to assist in coordinating their plans and to exchange ideas and experiences; we have met and will continue to meet with University officials to discuss the relationship of the college students and non-college students and the means to improve relations between the two groups; plans are being made to explore the possibility of utilizing more of our community talent to study the "whys" of the behavior of our youth, to guide us in preparing plans to reach those that we have not been able to reach, or perhaps have not even thought of reaching, and to evaluate generally what the community is doing and might do for its youth; and finally we will meet with the parents' organization which has suggested the former Miss Fine's School gymnasium as a facility or our youth, to explore the possibilities of the idea itself and the location at the gym or elsewhere.

Frankly, I am impressed by several aspects of the ideas as it has been presented to us, not the least of which is that the Borough is not being asked for additional tax funds to support the project.

Two Councilmen Retiring. Today, we are losing the services of two greatly respected members of Borough Council. They are Ellwood W. Godfrey and Joseph R. Strayer. For the last five years, Dr. Godfrey has been chairman of the important Borough finance committee. He has also served for the past six years as the Borough's Fire Commissioner. To both assignments and of the general business of the Borough Council he has given the dedicated service for which he is so well known.

Professor Strayer, in his three years on Borough Council, has served as our liaison with the Borough Board of Health and has done an outstanding job in this regard. We will miss his wisdom and his wit at future Council meetings, and particularly his terse summation of lengthy discussions. To both, the citizens of the Borough owe a deep debt for jobs well done.

We are fortunate, however, as I believe Princeton has always been, to have taking their place on Borough Council, two highly qualified gentlemen. For as long as I can remember, Charles R. Cornforth has been the conscience of the voting public in matters of finance. As the public's spokesman, he has become a true expert in this field and will today succeed, and very ably so, Dr. Godfrey as chairman of the Finance Committee.

Robert H. Hendry, our other new Councilman, will take over as Fire Commissioner. I know that Mr. Henry will bring to this assignment the same competence and dedication that his predecessor gave to it.

As always, the Borough Council and I will have a very able and dedicated municipal staff, headed by the administrator, Robert F. Mooney, to assist us in the day-to-day work of the Borough and to provide the quality services we have all come to expect, and to assist us in making the important policy decisions which must be made in the months ahead.

Same Time, New Place. Next year, at the first Council meeting of 1968, we will be in our new Borough Hall. There have been 31 annual organizational meetings of Borough Council held here in Thomson Hall.

It seems appropriate at this time to pause for a moment to consider the generosity, the foresight and the respect Mrs. Josephine Ward Thomson Swann had for the people of the Borough of Princeton as demonstrated by the terms of her will which made it possible for the Borough to make use of this property for so long and also made it indirectly possible for us to acquire the new Borough Hall property.

As we contemplate the end of an era in this building, I would not look back for too long as I am sure Mrs. Swann would not have; rather I would look forward to the challenges and the needs of the future and be prepared to expend the energies and make the sacrifices which may be necessary to solve them. We have a wonderful place in which to live and it will remain so only with the dedicated interest of everyone.

TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office by their own figures, more than Princeton newspaper does half as well.

Dr. Enoch Durbin

Topics Of The Town

DR. DURBIN TO SPEAK On Viet Nam. Aerospace scientist Enoch Durbin of Princeton University, who has just returned from an 8-day trip to Viet Nam, will address the Princeton IEEE and AIAA Sections at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Frick Auditorium. His topic is "A Scientist's View of Viet Nam." The public is invited to attend.

Professor Durbin, who had an opportunity to observe the detailed operation of the Viet Nam war as a technical tourist, will give his personal views on the meaning of the war as well as discuss the aviation and avionics aspects. In particular, he will emphasize the effectiveness of United States' research and development.

Professor Durbin is director of the instrumentation and control laboratories of the Aerospace and Mechanical Sciences department at Princeton. He is a consultant to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as general editor of the Flight Test Manual series, and has been an advisor to U.S. governmental agencies and to the aerospace industry of this country and France. In 1960 he received an award for his paper in the Journal of the Instrument Society of America.

SHADES OF ELLIOTT NESS: Meet "The Untouchable," (so called because these five Princeton girls feel that no one can match their unique playing style). They are Sheri Oman, lead singer; Molly York, base guitar; Kathy Pettit, drums; Jeri Lombardo, rhythm guitar; Dodie Pettit, lead guitar. The mascot on the base drum is reportedly a Pettit ancestor through whose veins must have coursed the rhythm that led to all this. (Story, this page.)

PEOPLE In The News

THEY'RE UNTOUCHABLE

But Modest About It All. Five pretty Princetonians are members of a rock and roll group whose popularity is growing week by week. They call themselves "The Untouchable," singular, not plural like Elliott Ness and friends.

The name was selected, the word goes, "because they feel they have a unique playing style which no other local group can match." Then, their publicity piece adds modestly, "simply because they're girls."

It may well be as simple as that. Because they are girls, and because their sound is distinctly enjoyable to rock 'n roll fans, they have had a host of bookings since they first got together in a Greenwich Village cafe one night last winter.

There have been a number of personnel changes in the intervening time, but the group currently consists of Molly York, Geri Lombardo, Geri's brother, a senior at Rider College, serves as the manager.

The group began three years ago when Dodie and Molly started a four-girl folk-singing group in junior high. The accent changed when the girls received birthday presents of electric guitars and began to look around for a drummer (female, naturally, and therefore a bit harder to come by).

Sheri Oman joined the group, rented a set of drums, and they were on their way. When Kathy Pettit came along and showed considerable ability in that line, Sheri got the role of lead singer. An appearance at the Hospital Fete last spring was markedly successful and bookings have followed here at the high school, Prospect Avenue clubs, the Graduate College, Rider and the University of Pennsylvania.

Molly York and Dodie Pettit, with the others collaborating, have turned composer. Among their titles: "I'm Sorry," "You're Mistaken," "So Absolutely So" and "Shy."

Richard J. Miller of 12 Heather Lane, Belle Mead, has received an American Oil Company certificate of commendation for his "outstanding courtesy and helpfulness to motorists." Mr. Miller operates the American Oil station at 96 Washington Road. The award, presented by William R. Hildendorff of Nassau Oil Company in behalf of American Oil, was the result of an unsolicited letter of appreciation received from Richard Paragamont of the Princeton University Graduate College.

Dr. Hetty Goldman of 2 Newlin Road was awarded the gold medal of the Archaeological Institute of America for distinguished achievement at Friday's joint meeting of the AIA and the American Philological Association in Toledo. Dr. Goldman is professor emeritus at the Institute for Advanced Study and one of the pioneering women excavators in Greece and the Near East.

AIA President Margaret Thompson praised Dr. Goldman as one who was "among the first to appreciate the ties between Greece and the Orient," adding that she "laid the foundations for South Anatolian archaeology of the classical and pre-classical periods with the monumental publication of her excavation at Tarsus."

Dr. Goldman is a graduate of Bryn Mawr with advanced degrees from Radcliffe. The first woman to hold Harvard's Norton Fellowship, she attended the American School of Classical Studies at Athens. She excavated two sites in Boetia, Greece, before crossing the Aegean to Colophon and Tarsus. She was a faculty member at Hunter College and Johns Hopkins University before joining the Institute for Advanced Study in 1936, retiring as professor emeritus in 1948.

The annual biographical compilation of "Outstanding Young Women of America" for the current year includes Mrs. Rose B. Gilbert of 525 Major Road, Monmouth Junction. Guidelines for selection include charitable activities, community service and professional excellence.

Miss Martha E. Sloane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Sloane of 214 Bayard Lane, has become a member of the psychology club at Chamberlayne Junior College, Boston. Miss Sloane is a first year student in the medical secretarial program.

Two Princetonians participated in the 81st annual meeting of the American Historical Association, held in New York City last week. Dr. Maurice duV. Lee Jr. of 48 Bayard Drive, a member of the Douglass College history faculty, read a paper, "The Foreign Policy of James I." Dr. Robert A. Kann of 143 Loomis Court chaired a session on "German Diplomacy, 1870-1914." He is a professor of history at the Rutgers College of Arts and Sciences in Newark.

Capt. Leonard E. Andrews, son of Mrs. Frank Durkin, Lower Alexander Street, was rated as "highly qualified" on the basis of his performance on the Strategic Air Command Combat Crew Evaluation Examination. "He can be depended upon to produce maximum results in all his endeavors," commented one of his superiors. A graduate of Princeton

High School and Cornell University, Capt. Andrews is currently stationed at Fairchild Air Force Base in Washington.

Prof. Walter J. Kaumann, 429 Prospect Avenue, chairman of Princeton University's department of chemistry, has been chosen the first recipient of the Kaj Ulrik Linderstrom-Lang Medal for his studies of the physical chemistry of proteins. The award, which is named in honor of a well-known Danish chemist, includes a grant of $1,400.

Dr. A. Angus Austen, 10 Princeton Avenue, director of Rutgers University's summer school, has been named faculty representative to the Rutgers Fund Council, which directs the University's annual alumni fund drive. Before joining the Rutgers faculty in 1957, he taught at several other colleges, including Princeton University. Dr. Austen is chairman of the English reading program at the Princeton Study Center and served for two years as Borough Councilman.

Dr. Alfred L. Foulet, Cherry Hill Road, professor emeritus of romance languages at Princeton University, has been awarded an honorary doctorate from the University of Poitiers, France, in recognition of his work in medieval French literature. Prof Foulet officially retired last June after 39 years on the Princeton faculty. However, he is continuing his association this year as a visiting lecturer.

Mrs. Cleara C. Brown, Pleasant Valley Road, Hopewell Township, was honored as the 10,000th state government employee to complete the Civil Adult Education course given by the State Department of Education. Gov. Richard J. Hughes presented her with the 10,000th course certificate at a special ceremony at the State House.

Mrs. Brown is a consultant to the Department of Health Office of Medical Certification. The knowledge of disaster planning gained from the course should help her better to assist the nursing homes and other institutions she serves during emergencies.

Prof. Edward T. Cone, Queenstown Place, Professor of Music at Princeton, is delivering three lectures this week as part of a program commemorating the 100th anniversary of Oberlin College's Conservatory of Music. Prof Cone will speak on "Musical Form and Musical Performance."

Dr. Donald G. Matthews, Faculty Road, assistant professor of history at Princeton University, will play a major role in a conference on American Methodism at Ohio Wesleyan University this week. The conference, titled "Religion and Social Reform in America: The Methodist Contribution" marks the 200th year of Methodism in America and the 125th anniversary of the University's founding.

SPORTS In Princeton

BACK TO THE IVY LEAGUE

Tigers Nationally Ranked. Victor over North Carolina is one of the major basketball upsets of the season. Princeton will return to its natural habitat this weekend with games in Dillon Gymnasium against Brown and Yale. Both contests before the usual SRO crowds will start at 8, with the Bruins here Friday and Yale's league-leaders coming in the following night.

For the story on Princeton's basketball victory over North Carolina, see page 1.

On farm, Princeton is a shoo-in for the Ivy title and has a reasonable chance of becoming the first team to go undefeated in league action since Columbia turned the trick 16 years ago. Bradley's team was 13 and 1, losing by a point at Ithaca.

However, form does not always hold up in the Ivy League in any sport. It will, of course, be an upset of mammoth proportions if the Tigers do not win the championship, but it is probably no more than an even bet that they will go 14 and 0. Working against them are such factors as the length of the season (by February's climactic games, they will have been practicing and playing for five months), and the ability of at least four of the other Ivies to become an extremely tough opponent on a given night.

Cornell, for example, was good enough to hand high-ranked Kentucky a convincing upset on its own court. Yale in turn, was good enough to beat Cornell at New Haven. Harvard, for no apparent reason is always tough for Princeton; Penn has been a pleasant surprise to its fans despite heavy graduation losses, and the Tigers must play the Quakers in the Palestra on January 28 after a two-week layoff for exams.

Working against Princeton too, is the inevitable tendency on the part of a team that has been up against some of the nation's best to take Ivy League opposition too lightly. There is no substitute for experience such as that gained within a week's action against Villanova, conqueror of tenth-ranked Michigan State; second-ranked Louisville and third-ranked North Carolina.

There is, however, a need to regard virtually every opponent as a possible upset victor, and the Tigers are still a team that plays in streaks of good and bad basketball. A bad streak at the wrong time in Ithaca, New Haven, Philadelphia or Cambridge could put a perfect Ivy season beyond reach.

Two-for-Two This Weekend. To the extent that anything in college basketball is predictable, it seems distinctly unlikely that this Princeton team will be beaten in Dillon Gymnasium. By Saturday night, odds are that the Tigers will have at least a share of first place following triumphs over Brown and Yale.

The Bruins never a title contender since they began league play in 1954, are markedly stronger this season that last year's quintet (9 out of 26 and seventh in the league). They have fair height in 6-7 Dave Gale, 6-5 Steve Sigur and 6-5 Bob Purvis, and good scoring ability in 6-3 Bob Reynolds and Captain Al Fishman, at 5-8 the smallest Ivy regular. They are currently 6-4 on the season.

Yale lacks height but can make up for it in good rebounding and balanced scoring ability. The Elis, who won five of their first six before losing the next two on a southern trip, put five men in double figures against both Holy Cross and Cornell.

Rick Stoner, Captain Rick Johnson, Ed Goldstone and Howie Dole are the top Eli players, but none of them is more than 6-4, and 6-9 Chris Thomforde should cause them evening-long trouble. Coach Joe Vancisin's Bulldogs play an aggressive brand of basketball and an action-packed session is likely Saturday night.

FINE SHOWING MADE

In Quaker City Play. Ability to defeat Bowling Green convincingly (67-73), hold off Villanova, 55-52, after it was good enough to upset Michigan State; and come within nine points of favored Louisville (72-63) is as good a showing in the Quaker City Tournament as could logically have been hoped for by the most optimistic of Princeton followers. It was achiever in competition against three very good basketball teams, and also against an intestinal virus that levelled Captain Ed Hummer and two of the Tigers' top reserves, Bill Koch and Al Adler.

As matters developed, Hummer was sub-par physically in the Villanova game, a factor that contributed to the 10 points which the Wildcats' Johnny Jones scored while Hummer was guarding him—in contrast to the five to which Hummer had held him on Villanova's own court three weeks earlier. The Tiger captain spent Friday night in McCosh Infirmary while his team played a highly satisfactory game against Louisville—one which a great majority of the 7,917 fans made it clear they hoped the Tigers could win.

FOUL PLAY: Joe Heiser, Princeton's most accurate player from the free throw line, was awarded—and made—two free throws when he was fouled on this field goal attempt by Villanova player. Outshot from the floor, Tigers won with 17 foul shots to six for the losers. In his first few games this season, Heiser made 27 out of 29 free throw.

Able to hold Villanova scoreless for better than seven minutes of the first half, Princeton erased a 15-9 deficit, took a 28-25 lead into the dressing room and then played a ding-dong, pulse-pounding second half which it had the poise and the ability to dominate. A six-point lead three minutes from the end was cut to one with 55 seconds left but the Tigers passed beautifully to kill the clock, and when Villanova came out to challenge possession, they shook bag John Haarlow loose under the basket for a layup that assured victory.

More than anything else, it was Princeton's skilled defensive basketball that made the difference. Outshot, 23-19, from the floor, the Tigers set a tournament record by committing only seven fouls. Villanova's six of eight from the foul line was no match for the victors' 17 for 24. Haarlow with 16 led the Princeton scoring; Thomforde, Walters and Heiser were also in double figures but Hummer's physical problems pared his output to 5.

First Five Minutes Costly. If Princeton had been able to score in the first five minutes of the Louisville game, it might have been a different story. The Tigers' defense was giving the Kentucky quintet lits but they themselves had their shots dropping off the rim repeatedly. Just short of the five-minute mark, Heiser hit on a jumper to make it 2-1, Princeton. Had the Tigers been able to connect while Louisville was adjusting to their defense, a lead of 10 or 12 to 1 would have forced the favorites to play catch-up ball, a difficult task for any team in any sport.

Experience made the difference. Junior Westley Unseld, with a year of varsity action and 40 pounds weight advantage over sophomore Chris Thomforde, outscored him 19 to 8, and outrebounded him, 20 to 13. Butch Beard, who has started all of Louisville's ten games this season, outplayed Princeton's Dave Lawyer, who filled in for Hummer, hadn't even played against Villanova and was starting only his second game this season.

Princeton held a one-point lead a couple of times in the early going, trailed by 28-23 at the half and by as much as 11 in the final period. At no time, however, could Louisville break the game open and in the final five minutes, it spent much of the time killing the clock.

With the Tigers in trouble up front, Heiser and Walters came through beautifully, the former making 19 points and Walters 18. Walters' great all-around play throughout the week placed him on the all-tournament team, and he was in the running for the most valuable player award.

For the record, the order of finish in the tournament was Louisville, Princeton, Syracuse, Villanova, LaSalle, Bowling Green, Michigan State, Niagara. On a basis of seeding Michigan State had been favored to battle Louisville for the title, but the Ivy League outplayed the Big Ten in this one by a country mile.

SKATERS LOSE TO YALE

Still Looking for a Win. A four-goal third period credited to Yale cost the Princeton hockey team its sixth defeat in a row Saturday. The game was played in South Mountain Arena, West Orange, proceeds from the sale of 2,226 tickets benefiting Princeton's new gymnasium and Yale's scholarship fund.

It was a 5-2 final, but a close game until the Elis scored twice in the last two minutes. The victors opened with a goal at 4:24 of the first round, but neither light came on again until the Elis beat Regan Kerney shortly after the final period started.

John Ritchie narrowed the margin with a shot on which sophomores Jerry Kearney and Bill Ramsay assisted with 9:24 to go. However, Yale got that back at 12:16 and added two more before the round ended to record its second victory over the Tigers this season. Terry Peterman made Princeton's other goal.

Ivy League contests occupy the Orange and Black this week. Both are on the road: Brown at Providence in a Wednesday game and Harvard at Cambridge Saturday. Princeton will then be idle until Dartmouth comes here for an afternoon game on Saturday, January 14.

PHS SKATERS BEATEN

By Cranford, 5-1. The Princeton High School hockey team will have to wait a little longer before it captures that first victory.

Last week at Baker Rink, the Cranford Hockey Club became the fourth team this year to stop PHS, beating the Little Tigers, 5-1. Paul Rice scored the lone goal for the losers.

Coach Pete Cook attributed a "terrible first period", in which Cranford skated to a 3-0 lead, as the main reason for the loss. "After that," he said, "we played pretty good hockey." He added that Cranford was probably as good as any team the Little Tigers will play this year.

On tap is a match with Summit Saturday afternoon at 1 at Baker Rink. This is the last PHS home game scheduled for Baker Rink before it starts to use the newly constructed Princeton Day School Rink.

However there are reports that progress on completing the PDS rink is lagging. Whether it will be ready in time for Princeton High's dau-

HUN FIVE TO RESUME

In Home Opener Saturday. Idle since its first game December 19, the Hun School basketball team will resume action Saturday evening when it opens its home season against Pennington.

As in all home contests for Hun, the game will be played at the Princeton Theological Seminary gym starting at 8. A jayvee game will precede the varsity battle.

Coach Dave Leete's squad, which dropped that lone outing in December to Bryn Athyn, will have its hands full against the visiting Red Raiders, as Pennington is reported to have a strong team this winter. Co-captains for Hun this season are Mark Short and Pete Bravemao.

PHS TAKES THIRD

In Holiday Tourney. Princeton High School captured third place in the Trenton Suburban Tournament last week by defeating Hopewell Valley Regional High School, 66 to 59. Ewing won the title by upsetting Notre Dame in the second game of a twinbill at the Trenton State gymnasium.

The Little Tigers, currently 4-5, will try to string together some victories, starting with Steinert Tuesday evening at the Spartans' home court. Steinert can be summed up in two words: Don Hess.

Hess is one of the outstanding players in Mercer County, and unless Coach Tony Borzok's Little Tigers can contain him, they are going to find the going rough. The contest will start at 8.

Against the Bulldogs from Hopewell Valley, PHS saw its six-point, half-time lead whittled to zero. At the end of three periods each team had 44 points.

Enter Princeton's hero, Tom Yoder, a 5-10 junior guard. Tom finished with 12 points, 10 of them coming in the pressure-packed final eight minutes. With Hopewell committing foul after foul to gain DEAD-EYE! Five-foot, tenineh guard Joe Kulley has a reputation of being the most accurate shooter on the PHS squad. He is a sesior.

possesion of the ball, Yoder blunted the Bulldogs' tactics by sinking six for six from the free throw line. He also added two pressure baskets for his 10 points.

Yoder got some timely assistance from teammates Tom Wood and Rich Volz. Wood made seven of his 19 points in the fourth period and Volz chipped in with four. Together this trio combined for 21 of Princeton's 22 points in the period and 48 of its total of 66.

Joe Kulley had 10 and Jeff Bullock 8 to account for the victors' other 18 points. Kulley, in particular, continues to show steady improvement. A streak shooter, he hit for nine of his 10 markers in the second period when PHS grabbed the lead. When Joe is "on," Princeton is hard to stop. Unfortunately, he has a tendency to tighten up which blunts his potential.

Wood Owns Backboard. Wood, who had missed two games because of a bad ankle, was in complete command under the boards. He pulled down 16 rebounds, more than half of Princeton's total and more than the entire output in this department by Hopewell.

For his strong play defensively and his 31 points in the two-game tourney, Wood was named to the All-Tournament team. So was Hopewell's John Gilbert, who led his team with a high performance of 22.

Hopewell was operating under a severe handicap. Four of its members, including three of its starters, had been suspended by coach Norm Udy for drinking. As it was, the Bulldogs managed to match PHS basket for basket from the floor—each had 25— but could not equal Yoder's and Wood's output from the free throw line.

In a surprise move, Borzok started sophomore John Maddeo. Maddeo displayed some fine moves for one starting his first varsity contest, breaking dence in his shooting, he will be seen more and more often, into the open consistently. When he gains more confi-

There's nothing
new about new ideas
in New Jersey

The nation's first organized research laboratory was established in New Jersey. By Thomas A. Edison in 1876. And from the tempo he set — 300 inventions in six years — has come a torrent of new ideas, new products, new industries.

New Jersey still leads the nation in private research and development with more than 700 research laboratories and the greatest concentration of scientists and engineers per capita.

To industries searching for new plant, office or research sites, the Garden State offers exciting opportunities and rewards. To the people of New Jersey, it means dynamic economic growth . . . and a continuing flow of new jobs and new prosperity.

Today, New Jersey is thriving. Tomorrow looks even brighter. As testimony to our confidence in the future of New Jersey, Public Service expects to spend $500 million for new services and facilities within the next three years to help power this growth. A lot of money? Yes, but an investment in the people of New Jersey is always a good one.

Please Pass on Our Thanks.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I wish to express my appreciation to all the wonderful people of Princeton and vicinity who have made my Christmas and that of my men so memorable. So many folks have taken the time to send us Christmas cards and notes of cheer that it is really impossible, with the time consuming kaleidscope of war, to answer each individually as we would choose.

Please pass on our thanks—especially to the more than 100 children who made cards and little autobiographies for us.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like you to print this letter so that I may thank everyone kind enough to send me Christmas greetings. I am overwhelmed at the response of your readers, not for me personally but to all of the men over here who are serving their country and the world. I'm proud of you all the concern that you are showing makes this tour of duty that much easier. Thank you and holiday greetings.

"Deplorable Situation."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As you reported in Town Topics last week, at 11:45 a.m. on Saturday, December 24, I was driving my family out of Princeton for a Christmas vacation. My car skidded out of control on glare ice as we approached the Harrison Street bridge from the north.

We hit the bridge abutment and our children were injured, one suffering a concussion. The car was demolished. Cars skidded all around us and another serious accident occurred shortly after ours.

Harrison Street is a Mercer County road and is supposed to be maintained by the County. Following our wreck last Saturday the Township, under emergency powers, sent out its sanding trucks to tend to this treacherous area.

A phone call to Arthur E. Sypeck's office (he was up Jan 1 Freeholder in charge of the Mercer County Road Dept.) revealed that the County had "started calling up its men around 10 o'clock Saturday morning." The storm had been going on for at least five hours.

What was not said but what the County road crews told us later was that they didn't do any work in the Princeton area until Sunday morning—the day following the storm. Most road departments in New Jersey, including the state, Princeton Borough and Princeton Township, were prepared for the approaching storm and were busy sanding and salting danger spots, such as hills, intersections, approaches to bridges and tunnels early in the morning on Saturday.

While I'm bitter about our experience, we did survive it

Mayor Schafer's New Year Report

It has been customary, on this occasion, for the Township Committee to review the accomplishments of the past year and give thought to important issues for the coming year. I will attempt to summarize the work of our Committee in 1966 and examine some of the major prospects for 1967. Not all projects undertaken last year have been completed, but we assure you that they will not be abandoned before completion. Delays are inevitable, but can be overcome.

While it becomes increasingly difficult, because of the complexity of many of today's projects, to assign each to a particular year, two major items stand out in the eyes of public works. Less than one month ago our new Princeton Joint Free Public Library was dedicated. I am certain that you have heard of the fine set library facilities in New Jersey or perhaps in the entire country. Our librarian and his fine professional staff are available to serve the entire community and assist in any problems relating to this area. Nothing would please the members of this Committee more than to have our new library filled to capacity each day. Our annual expenditures for library services will increase significantly over former years. The staff has been enlarged, the building refurbished, but increased use will cut the cost per user.

Although a few minor items are still to be completed, the Swimming Pool Complex in Community Park will be open for the 1967 season with the exception of the outdoor season in the spring. The delay which occurred during the pool's construction prevented the planned June summer opening but we have been assured that our community will enjoy a full season of swimming in 1967.

To date, Princeton Township and Borough have invested over $600,000 in developing Community Park. We feel that we have provided an excellent basic recreational facility, one which can be expanded and added to from time to time as the need develops.

We have kept pace with the recommendations of our Open Space Commission in the acquisition of key properties. In 1966, one hundred eleven (111) acres of open space were added to the Township holdings. This acreage was contained in five parcels of land, representing an assessed value of $379,500. The acquisitions are being financed through Federal and State grants whereby each party (33⅓ percent of the land acquisition cost.

Public hearings were conducted on a zoning ordinance for Princeton Township, as well as on many questions, criticisms, and objections by individuals and groups. The final ordinance was returned to the Planning Board for review and amendment. The Planning Board in turn has delegated further studies to subcommittees and a special group has been formed to investigate and make recommendations regarding a low-cost and low and middle-income zoning.

We have intentionally set no time limits for the completion of the work of these sub-committees, but we would hope to have the revised zoning ordinance in our plans adopted by the end of this year.

Further, in the area of housing, a meeting was held with the Borough Housing Authority to explore possible steps we might take to have more benefits for our Township residents. The members of the Authority are most cooperative and helpful to us during this session. We shall study fully all possibilities and take appropriate steps to provide a suitable amount of public housing necessary for qualified residents.

In the spring of 1966, the Committee along with the Borough and Municipal Court appointed a Local Joint Community Action Council which also serves as our representation on the Mercer County Community Action Council. Federal funds become available effecting special projects for education programs or in assisting the underprivileged. our representatives will determine where these funds might best be applied. Thus far, the results have been minimal, but the county officials have hopes that the Federal funds will become more available in the coming year.

A program attempting to provide greater safety for pedestrians, young and old, was worked out by officials of the Township and Princeton University. Although we feel that this is a great step forward in preventing further tragedies on Carnegie Lake and on the canal, it must be re-emphasized that we are not attempting to usurp parental supervision. This must be a joint effort not only by the University and the Township, but also involving the parents and children as the individuals themselves.

A program to re-examine and update Township properties was authorized and completed during 1966. A firm specializing in assessments was hired to do the job and it is now providing a fair and realistic measure and value upon our employed and non-revaluation. Values on most local properties have risen, keeping pace with market values. This fact alone does not automatically indicate an increase in taxes, as the new tax rate will be determined later by the manner in which the school, county and local budgets are requested. It is a pleasure to report again that the local tax rate which is the Township Committee's responsibility has not increased over the rate of five years ago.

Locally, the most important event of 1966 may well have been the regionalization of the school district. The Township voters overwhelmingly supported the "merger" of the Township and Borough system as the logical method of improving education and avoiding duplication.

I feel that it is appropriate, in view of my experiences on all township school board members who over the years contributed to developing the fine school district we possess, at the time of the merger. Our gratitude also is extended to the present appointed board for their regional school district. The results they have achieved in one short year have been tremendous. We hope that successive boards will be able to match the determination, dedication and results.

A meeting has been scheduled in January between the Township Committee, the Regional School Board and the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Princeton. The principal purpose of the meeting will be to review with the board its 1967 budget and for the two governing bodies and the regional board to become more familiar with the demands and operation of the respective bodies. We feel that the results will prove fruitful and that a precedent will be established for future groups.

We have continued to implement many policies and programs started. Old and damaged sewers have been replaced in various parts of the Township, resurfacing program has continued and can be appreciated by driving over our carefully maintained streets.

The Great Road Sewer is nearing completion. Hopefully the Intelligent Sewer Rod will be in use in 1967. Although some of these items may appear trivial by many of us, it is well to draw them to our attention from time to time so that all of us can appreciate what happens to our tax dollars.

Meet Township residents will be pleased to note that the present Committee has planned no major projects for the coming year. Our 1967 committed budget is much lower than it has been for several years. We have made payments on our indebtedness but any additions to this budget will be minimal.

The police salary referendum, which was approved by a large majority of the voters, will cause an unprecedented rise in our salary accounts. It is hoped that most other township employees will receive increases in their salaries in order to maintain our favorable position with other local employers. Hopefully these new rates will offset most of this salary increase.

During the coming year, we will investigate the need for a new Township Hall. Overcrowded conditions are becoming more and more unmanageable—some solution must be found. Negotiations with the Post Office Department have not proven to be at all encouraging. Hopefully, we can a suitable solution. Other plans and arrangements will be investigated in order to proper one, but the most opulistic estimate for constructing the new 1966-1967 Budget, we will continue to serve our community well in our present accomodations.

It is with considerable pleasure that I congratulate and welcome Dave Thompson and Jack Walker to the Township Committee. Both are "veterans" of the Township government and will be able to effectively full-time with us since their recent election to office in November. We look forward to many more years of dedicated service by both.

At the same time, we regret the loss to the Township of the services of Walter Foster and Russell Mount. It is hard to measure the number of hours they spent or how hard they worked over the past three years. Each certainly is entitled to a vacation of many Monday nights. Well done Walter and Russ!

Our appreciation and gratitude must be extended also to our fine Township staff and the members of all the Township boards and commissions. The latter group is deserving of special recognition because of the hours they spend and the care in performing his unsalaried and time-consuming duties.

and I now know to avoid Princeton Junction. The most deplorable situation should be pointed out to other unsuspecting people so that they can I don't want what happened to us to happen to anyone else.

It seems to me that if the money is used to maintain its roads and bridges, it should either close them off or charge a toll. Maybe it can turn them over to someone who can maintain them.

Not For Christmas.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

What can we do for enterprising people who deserve more? This seems to be the teenage problem in Princeton.

Parents seem to be interested in an answer but it is surprising that so few people have mentioned the movies as an enjoyable and relatively inexpensive place for some evenings. Or possibly it is not surprising considering the typical school movie as a regular diet in Princeton.

No better for word examples have been given than our "Christmas shows" "Murders Are Rife" on Wednesday and "Any Wednesday" at the Playhouse. I doubt if any thinking parents were suggesting that their son take his date to either of these shows.

We have had several meetings with the operators of these theatres. Politely, firm, and has consistently requested that they run one film a week which is appropriate for family viewing. We feel that they are not considering the interests of our community when they ignore these requests.

It is understandable that our teenagers are forced to see what goes on in all these sexy and violent films. Do they make sure that they are aware of the content! but I wonder why parents, responsible people might choose a whole-some movie? ex. "The Sound of Music" "Follow the boys," or "The Gospel According to St. Matthew" if they were given a choice.

It is our hope that in 1967, the theatre operators will have more occasions to say "Son, if you don't have any money, ask your Mom if you take your date to a movie?

released schedules for hockey, wrestling and basketball.

The hockey schedule of two meetings with Princeton High School's hockey team will compete on a junior varsity level. The coach is Harry Rusin, Jr., a member of the "Tigers" of the Princeton University sextet and a member of the Princeton Hockey Club. Last year in jayvee competition the Blue and White was 6-3-1.

The home opener will be against PHS January 20 when the new Princeton Day rink in Kingston will be dedicated. The squad is currently practicing at Baker Rink where it is the Princeton entry in the Wissahickon Skating Club.

The rest of the schedule: Jan. 24, Hill School; 26, Wyoming; 16, The Hill School; 20, Pennington School; Feb. 3, Kent School, away; 10, Lawrenceville; 17, Blair Academy; 24, Princeton Hockey Club; 24, Princeton High School; Mar. 3, Peddie; 8, Wissahickon; 10, away. All home games will start at 3:30.

Wrestling, a new sport this year, will be coached by Douglas McClure. All matches will be on a junior varsity level.

The schedule: Jan. 4, Delbarton; 13, Lawrenceville, away; 20, Solebury; Feb. 1, Fun; 10, Peddie, away; 15, Pingry, away; 22, Lawrenceville; March 1, Wardlaw Country Day; and 4, wrestling tournament, Hill School.

17 Varsity Games. Basketball will be coached by Barron. The first four games will be jayvee games. Hill is remaining 17 will be against varsity teams. PDS will not have a varsity team this year.

Bill Rigot, who quarterbacked the PDS football team to an undefeated season, will be coach of the jayvee. Rigot led 18 points a game in PDS first seven starts before being sidelined for the remainder of the season with an injury.

Six others who join Rigot in comprising the varsity squad are Rich Bates, Jay Verney, Rich Haines, and sophomores Craig Page, Frank Andrews and Tom Sullivan. The jayvee squad are juniors Bob Spear, Chris Simmons, Bob Princeton; and Andy Fishman, and Jerome King, Clyde Fitzgerald and Ray Ho, the letter three sophomores.

Barron reported that lack of height will be a prominent problem, Ross at 6-1 is the tallest player on the squad and its top rebounder. Page was the leading scorer last year as a sophomore averaged 11 both scoring and rebounding.

In 1966 Barron guided the Blue and White to a 13-1 record, the only setback a one-point loss to Pennington Prep. however, it won't be as easy in 1967. Although he feels his team has good balance, Barron says his lack of juniors and varsity competition rules out any duplication of last year's success.

The schedule: Jan. 6, Delbarton, away; 13, Hill School, away; 13, Peddie; 18, Hill School, away (all jayvee contests); 20, Morristown Prep, away; 21, Hun.

Feb. 1, Rutgers Prep, away; 3, Stevens School; 8, Blair Academy; 10, Bryn Athyn, away; 15, Pennington Prep, away; 17, Rutgers Prep; 22, Peddie, away; 25, Pennington Prep; March 1, Stevens; 3, Moorestown, away; 8, St. Berneards, away. All home games will start at 4.

PHS SKATERS WIN, 4-3

For First Victory. Powered by two goals by Bobby Linder, the Princeton High School hockey team won its first game of the season Tuesday, skating to a 4-to-3 victory over home-team Montclair High School.

"We played our best game of the year," said Pete Cook, coach of the Blue and White. "We were powerful well and we played most of the game with effective skating." Assist by Linder, who scored his fifth and sixth goals to lead the Little Tigers to the victory, Cook cited the defensive play of Charlie Shelton and the outstanding performance of Paul Rice. "Rice played a great game."

Rice started things off for the Blue and White with an unassisted goal in the middle of the first period. Henry Sommers made it 2-0, assist by John Rice and Linder smacked home two more to stake PHS to a 3-0 lead.

Then, after Montclair scored twice in the second period, Linder tallied "number four" for the winning goal with two and a half minutes remaining, "It was a long time coming but it's nice to win that first one," commented Cook.

WRESTLERS DEFEATED

By Kelsey, 48-16. The Blue and White men went down to their fourth defeat Tuesday, losing 35-1 to a strong Pennington team.

Sophomore Abraham Meacoche, wrestling in the 148-lb. class, registered the only pin for the Little Tigers, while Hank Hinkinson and Bill Bates recorded decisions in the 115-lb. and heavyweight classes for the home team. Hill-and-Dale Marty Heitner each lost one point decisions in the 157 and 168-pound divisions.

Failure of Ross Bayer to make his weight in the 148-pound class forced Tom Murray to do some sudden jugglING. In addition, PHS was forced to forfeit the 98 and 130-lb. matches. In the former, Bobby Peters was overweight but the match was held anyway as an exhibition. Arcaro won by decision.

PHS TOPPLED 71-53

ND's Rylinski Gets 37. Princeton High School's basketball team lost its sixth game in 10 starts Tuesday afternoon to visiting Notre Dame but the big news was the latter's Stan Rylinski.

The 6-5 Irish captain poured in 37 points on a phenomenal point-a-minute clip to set a record with 37, eclipsing the old school mark of 36. That by the way, was made last year by Wayne Sokolowski — also against the Little Tigers.

Rylinski got seven in the first period and then collected 12 in the second eight minutes of play when ND spurted from a 14-13 deficit to a 26-24 halftime bulge. He added five more in the third period and 13 more in the final stanza.

Aware that Rylinski had an opportunity to shatter the school mark, coach Joe Dempsey let his star stay in the game for more than 35 seconds to go after Rylinski his two free throws for his 36th and 37th points. His teammates greeted him with standing applause.

Rylinski, who took a 22-point average into the game, hit on a collection of layups and two-handed jumpers from around the key. Several times he tipped the ball in on his second or third effort under the boards where he outshone his 6-9 counterpart, Tony Bell, PHS captain. From the foul line, he was a perfect 11 for 13.

Princeton started out in fine fashion against the favored Irish by grabbing an 8-3 lead and taking a one-point advantage at the end of the first quarter. It built that lead when Wood hit on a layup and Jeff Bullock stole the ball for another layup. Jeff was for four quick points and a 20-19 edge.

Rylinski Breaks Loose. Then Rylinski broke loose. He produced eight of Notre Dame's next 10 points. Meanwhile, the Tigers had difficulty defensively crisp play was distinguishing. Several traveling charges and poor passes ended in costly turnarounds.

Notre Dame's last gasp came in the final period when back-to-back buckets by Marty Haines, who had played only the final quarter, narrowed the gap to 61-49. Poor shooting, 20 for 60 for ND and PHS as much as Rylinski did.

BOWLING NOTES

Two Tie in B League. The Princeton Bowling Alley B League ended last week with two points separating the first and second.

Princeton Inn and Princeton-Town tied for first place with 38 points, followed by Princeton Inn, wherein No. 1 plays No. 2, No. 3, No. 4, and so forth, finished in the first-half positions — with Princeton Inn winning by a 48-46 margin. In their playoff meeting, Princeton Del won two of three games to reach the deadlock. The scoring for the Inn was 883 1038 and 942. Princeton Del countered with 959, 918, and 1043, winning the first and third games. The three-game final game of 234 rolled by Joe Baldino, who had posting scores of 236-211-219 for a 666. Other high scorers for Princeton Del were Ed Hoffman and Ed Dayton, all of Princeton Inn, each rolling 200 and better, exception of Bathie who had a 211.

If you see any long faces in the Tri-County Firemen's League it is a sad journey to Princeton No. 1. The previous week, No. 1 had regained the lead in the tournament and all it had to do be No. 1 in the standings as well was to take one of three in its payoff meeting with Lawrenceville.

However, Lawrenceville swept all three games to win the match and with the standings at the halfway mark are Lawrenceville 58 with, Princeton

News Of The CHURCHES

DR. McCORD TO PREACH

In St. Andrew's Church. The Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, will be the guest minister at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church this Sunday. His sermon topic is "The Office and Ministry." The service is at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. McCord is a member of the Committee on Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches and has served as chairman of the Consultation on Church Union of eight of the nation's Protestant denominations.

He is past chairman of the North American Area Council of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, a member of the Alliance executive committee, chairman of the theological department and North American Secretary of the Alliance. He has represented his Church at international meetings of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches and has traveled extensively, lecturing and preaching in Germany, Britain, The Netherlands, Canada, Czechoslovakia, South America and Hungary. He is also chairman of the editorial council of "Theology Today."

SERVICE PLANNED

By Seminary Choir. The Princeton Seminary Choir, now in its 33rd season, will present a vesper service at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in First Baptist Church, John and Green Streets, in Trenton. The choir is headed by Mrs. Oneta Campbell, as director.

The choir, under the direction of David Hugh Jones, numbers about 40 men from 15 states and three foreign countries: Ireland, Formosa and Japan. The choir members participate in various speaking parts of the service. Usually the Choir Leader speaks briefly on their decision to enter the Christian ministry.

The musical portion of the program ranges from ancient plainsong through Palestrina, Lotti, Bach, Handel, Haydn and Mendelssohn to contemporary composers. Also in the repertoire are a number of spiritual folk songs from different nations.

Dr. Jones was a charter member of the faculty of Westminster Choir College, both assignments and to the 1926. He headed the organ and composition departments of the college for a number of years. He has been director of music at Princeton Seminary since 1935. In 1951, he relinquished his post at the Choir College to devote full time to the seminary as professor of music.

TO HEAR RIGHTS TALK

By Harry Drewry. Henry N. Drewry, chairman of the social studies department at Princeton High School, will speak to the Trinity Teens at 10:15 a.m. Sunday, according to an announcement by Ellie Armstrong, president. His topic is "Experiences With Civil Rights."

A founder of Princeton Association for human rights, Mr. Drewry has been active in the civil rights movement. He is a trustee of the Mercer County Community College and has been a participant in the summer program for disadvantaged youth at Princeton University.

Interested young people are invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the upstairs room of the parish house, 33 Mercer Street.

AUTHORS TO SPEAK

On Interfaith Project. A Roman Catholic priest and an Episcopal clergyman who teamed to write the ecumenical "Living Religious Messages" will open the 1967 Epiphany Study sponsored by the Princeton Christian Unity Committee and the Princeton Pastors' Association.

The Rev. William B. Greenspun, C.S.P., and the Rev. William A. Norgren will discuss concepts behind "Living Room Dialogues" at the first meeting of the new Epiphany study series, scheduled for January 20 in the auditorium of the Princeton Presbyterian campus center. The Epiphany program will be based on the book, first joint publication of the Paulist Press and the National Council of Churches.

The Rev. Mr. Greenspun is national director of the Apostolate of Goodwill of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine of the Roman Catholic Church. The Rev. Mr. Norgren heads the National Council of Churches' department of Faith and Order.

Their book suggests seven topics for informal exploration of the basic tenets of the various Christian denominations. Included are the topics as "How Do We Worship" "Our Common Christian Heritage," and "Why We Don't Break Bread Together."

Discussion groups will be formed at the first meeting. Study will be held in homes in the Princeton area, depending on a schedule to be decided upon by each group. Sessions will include prayers, Scripture readings and resource materials.

Registration blanks will be available after Christmas in the offices of the area churches. The $2 registration fee includes the cost of the text.

CHURCHES ANNOUNCED

For Week of Prayer. The Protestant-Catholic Week of Prayer for Christian Unity will take place in eight Princeton churches, according to the Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer, of the planning committee. Services will be held daily at 7:45 p.m.

The schedule is as follows: Wednesday, January 18, St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church; Thursday, January 19, First Presbyterian Church; Friday, January 20, Princeton Seminary; Saturday, January 21, Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church; Sunday, January 22, Trinity Episcopal Church; Monday, January 23, Lutheran Church of the Messiah, and Tuesday, January 24, Calvary Baptist Church.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE SET

By Russian Orthodox. Christmas Eve Friday is Christmas Eve in the Russian Orthodox Church and the service of Great Complines and Matins will be celebrated at 7:30 p.m. in Princeton University Chapel. The service is in Russian.

Celebrants will include the Rev. Professor John Turkevich, the Rev. Professor Georges Florovsky and the Rev. George Kalpaxis from Cherry Hill. Sacred music by the classical Russian composers will be sung in Russian by the choir.

The beautiful service has drawn standing room crowds to the Chapel in past years.

TO HEAR DR. WU

At First Church. Dr. Tehyao-Wu, president of Tunghai University, Taiwan, will address the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church at 8.30 p.m. this Tuesday. His topic will be "Chinese Culture and the Art of Living." Dr. Wu is a visiting Fellow at Princeton Theological Seminary this year, accompanied by his family in Payne Hall.

SEMINARY PRESIDENT

The meeting is open to all interested in community planning; reservations for luncheon should be made through the Chamber office, 921-7876.

VARIETY SHOW RETURNS

To Dutch Neck School. The Women Window Fire Company's musical variety show, "Low-Down-Hoe Down" will return to Dutch Neck Elementary School Friday and Saturday, January 13 and 14, at 8.15 at the Dutch Neck School.

The show scored a popular success when it was presented last November. Tickets will be sold at the door.

HARTMAN TO SPEAK

On Youth Center. Thomas B. Hartman is chairman of the members of the Princeton Business and Professional Women's Club, which Monday at 6 at the Nassau Inn, Mr. Hartman is chairman of the adult committee to support the teenagers' campaign for a youth center.

A Princeton resident, Mr. Hartman is associate director of the Mercer County Office of Economic Opportunity. He has had considerable professional experience with programs of juvenile delinquency and education and training the underprivileged.

Mrs. Betty Dukes is the office of the chairman. Their planning to attend should make reservations as soon as possible with Miss Louise Mass, 924-5635.

TO SPEAK ON CHILDBIRTH

To Wyman Club. Dr. Erwin Shaham, obstetrician and gynecologist, will speak on natural childbirth and family centered maternity care at the meeting of the Wyman Club next Monday in the faculty lounge of the University Engineering Quadrangle.

All wives of Princeton University students are invited to attend. The meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m.

TO MEET AT MUSEUM

Art Study Group. The University League will hold its monthly meeting at the University Art Museum on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Husbands are invited.

After the art program, the group will make plans to participate in museum activities. Mrs. William D'O. Lippincott will be hostess for the meeting.

MUSICIANS TO COMPETE

For University Honor. The Friends of Music at Princeton will sponsor the University Orchestra's first annual Concerto Competition on Sunday at 4 in the McAlpin Rehearsal Room of the Woolworth Music Center. Both graduate and undergraduate University students will compete for the honor of a solo appearance at the orchestra's concert on March 5.

The judges will be Prof. J. Merrill Knapp, Prof. Walter Nollner, Nicholas Harsanyi and Robert Freeman. Selections of concertos by Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, Richard Strauss, Ibert and Bartok will be performed.

Highest individual score was a 227 by Dick Rodefeld Harry Kahny had 209 and Al Wright and Wally Brown 203s. Bowling doubles were recorded by Carmen Pantaeno, 204-208; Dan Wilbur, 195-216, and Art Pyne, 199-201. Harold Duvall had 192-191-201 /584.

Things were less hectic in the Nassau League where Cifelli Electric captured first-half honors with 66 points, four more than second-place First Aid. Princeton Aviation ended with 60, while Grover Lumber had 59 and Tiger Gasoline 58.

A 223 by Herb Ireland paced the scoring, followed by Joe Baldino's 216, Steve Burrough's 214 and 211s by Don Hanley and Norm Fowler. Mike Pinelli rolled 200-201.

WANT TO SKI?

Lessons Offered. Weather permitting, free ski lessons will be given this winter at the Belle Mountain Ski Area. The Trenton Ski Patrol, under the direction of Lyon Rednor, will give instruction to beginners on Saturdays and Sundays, from 10 to noon for children, and from 2 to 4 for adults.

Classes will be offered from 2 to 9 p.m. on Mondays for beginners and on Wednesdays for skiers who have had experience. The classes will be taught by Mr. Rednor, a professional instructor who has taught in Germany and at several ski spots in the United States.

BUSINESS In Princeton

"IT WAS A DILLY!"

Christmas Was Green. "Christmas was a dilly!" said one shopkeeper as he added up all the green plus signs, and his observation is echoed almost universally in the Princeton business community.

The shop where Christmas was a dilly is the Village Bakery in Lawrenceville, where the owner spent 20 hours at his ovens the day before Christmas and still sold out. He had baked four dozen—41 —complex gingerbread houses which sold for $8.50 each and his real estate investment paid off: he sold every one and could have doubled his baking project and still made sales.

The green of Christmas was limited somewhat for everyone, however, by the blizzard of Christmas Eve.

"We had a very good season indeed, better than 65," commented F. J. Worthington, head of the Princeton University Store. "It was a particularly good book year, by the way. But that storm! It made a big crimp in our business: we closed at 3:30 in the afternoon — our customers just couldn't get in to us."

"The snow cut our expected volume for that day by 20-25%," estimated Merrill Zinder, "but we still did about 35% better than last year, overall. And there were more big purchases than I can recall in other years."

Mr. Zinder's observation is repeated by Augustus Hulit, owner of The Cummins Shop. "We were sizeably over last year," he says, "and we noticed that our high-priced merchandise moved especially well—people would buy a dozen Waterford goblets, for example. And it was just wild in here on Saturday morning! We had always planned to close early Christmas Eve afternoon, so the storm didn't affect us too much. After about 1 p.m., the crowds really thinned out."

"Fantastic!" exclaimed Everett Campbell of Thorne's. "Our highpriced things really went the 5½ bottles of perfume, and that kind of thing."

"The storm killed us," says Levias-Voorhees candidly, "but the Sunday after Christmas we were exceptionally busy." Happy House, the gift shop in the Shopping Center, echoed "It killed us!" "Our season began early, and was better than 65" recalls L. E. Hurtress, owner of the shop, "but we don't think we can make up that lost snowy Saturday afternoon."

At Edith's, the lingerie shop, Mrs. Edith Zuckerman reports that the storm immediately before the snow were so busy that they made up for the storm business. Mrs. Zuckerman believes that having offices closed the Friday before Christmas helped business for everyone.

Unhappy. Two Princeton shops report discontent with the way the cash register rang. One specialty shop owner says the season was a bad one "and it was for other stores, too, if they'd only admit it." This shop-owner lays the blame on bad news from Washington and a general uneasiness in the public mind about Viet Nam.

The second shop-owner also says business was under last years. "Thank goodness that Christmas came late!" was the comment in this shop. "If it had been Friday instead of Saturday, it would really have hurt us. As it was, we almost overcame it, but we are still under 65."

Happy. Three happy store-owners watched every flake of the storm. Weatherwise with its ski gear, Varsity Sports with all those snurfers and Tiger Auto with tire chains.

"Our Christmas Eve this year was almost double last year," says Weathervane.

"The snow hurt our gift buying, but we really picked up on things like ice chains," says Tiger Auto.

"It was a terrific year!" says Varsity Sports. "That snowy Saturday we sold ice skates, snowshoes, toboggans—and our Christmas business held up after Christmas was over, too. I've heard other stores say the same thing."

"The news this year is good news!" says Erle Mihan, owner of the English Shop. "All the New York papers said business was bad, but I'm glad Princeton people didn't pay any attention to the New York papers.

"I would say we probably had a 5% increase. It was a particularly good year for sport coats and those striped slim shirts the young men wear—we ran out of those."

"We'd have been better without the snow, undoubtedly," says Samuel Kind of La Valet's. "But we still did slightly better than a year ago. We lost our out-of-town customers that Saturday—the people from Cranbury or New Brunswick just stayed home."

One crowded shop, its customers undismayed by the weather, stationed a clerk at the door toward the end of Christmas Eve afternoon to make sure the customers already in could get out—and that nobody else could push his way in. "It was quite a Christmas!" the dazed owner said.

An upward trend was clearly in effect at TOWN TOPICS, where the advertising volume in the four pre-Christmas issues averaged 7% higher than a year ago. The December 15th issue was 68 pages, setting an all-time record.

TO HEAD CHAMBER

Firman Is President. Melvin C. Firman has been elected president of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce for 1967, succeeding R. L. Lenhart, who now joins the governing board as Director ex-officio.

Mr. Firman is assistant to the manager of research and development at the Agricultural Division of American Cyanamid. He joined American Cyanamid in 1953 after five years as research bacteriologist with the Hercules Chemical Corporation. He is vice-chairman of West Windsor Township's Industrial Committee and a member of the West Windsor Zoning Board.

Other officers elected to serve the Chamber in 1967 are: Ridgley W. Cook of Edmund Cook & Company, real estate, senior vice-president; Keister B. Pierson of the Mason, Griffin & Moore law firm, vice-president for professional services; George S. Samuelson of Columbian Carbon, vice-president for research and education.

Also Dan D. Coyle, Princeton University, vice-president for civic affairs; John C. Yeoman of Palmer Square, Inc., vice-president for business services and C. Barnwell Strout of Princeton Bank and Trust Company, treasurer.

Four were elected to the Board of Directors for three-year terms, joining Mr. Coyle and Mr. Samuelson in that category. The four are Dr. Paul R. Cornelius, headmaster of The Hun School; William R. Cosby, president of Princeton Bank and Trust; A. T. David, Western Electric and Ralph H. Mather, president of the First National Bank of Princeton.

Directors-at-large, named to one-year terms, are Leonard Gotsch of American Can; S. Philip Marcus of FMC; Robert Nelson of the Nelson Glass Company; Paul E. Orr Jr., of Management Planning, Inc., John F. Moran of Princeton University and Mr. Pierson.

WE'RE PARTNERS

In New Law Farm. Albridge C. Smith III, 62 Hodge Road, and Samuel W. Lambert III, 34 Wilson Road, have announced the formation of Smith and Lambert, with law offices at One Palmer Square.

Mr. Smith, a graduate of Princeton University in 1936 and of the Yale Law School in 1939, has been a licensed New Jersey lawyer since 1946. He has been a counsellor-at-law since 1958. From 1946 to 1958, he was associated with Humes, Smith and Andrews in New York City.

He has been active in civic affairs in Princeton, serving in past years as chairman of the Borough Zoning Board and chairman of the Borough Planning Board.

Mr. Lambert was graduated from Yale in 1960. He received his law degree from Harvard in 1963 and was admitted to the New Jersey bar in 1964.

PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

At Bank and Trust. Princeton Bank and Trust Company has announced two executive promotions. Malcolm G. Magner has been named vice-president of the banking division, and Williams A. Caffrey has been elected assistant treasurer.

Mr. Magner joined the bank in 1959 as assistant treasurer and has served as assistant vice-president since 1962. A life-long resident of Pennington, he has been president of the Hopewell Township School Board and the Princeton March of Dimes. Mr. Magner graduated from Rider College.

Since joining the bank in 1957 as a teller, Mr. Caffrey has specialized in credits and loans. He received his formal banking education at the American Institute of Banking and the New York Institute of Finance. He is active in the work of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the United Fund.

IT'S AN RCA RECORD

Greatest Increase in 1966. Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, 181 Library Place, chairman of the executive committee of RCA, announced with President Robert W. Sarnoff, that RCA achieved the greatest sales and profit increase in its history in 1966. The year was the fifth in a row which saw a new earnings peak for RCA.

The executives predicted further increases for the new year, "barring major changes in the economic climate." They noted that almost all the company's divisions contributed to the success and that nine advanced to record profit levels.

RCA's sales for the past year have been estimated at more than $2.5 billion, and its profits will be more than $130 million. Stockholders will receive approximately $2.20 per share, a significant increase over the 1965 dividends of $1.73 per share.

During 1966, the company undertook its greatest program of capital expenditure in history, involving more than $200 million. Dr. Engstrom and Mr. Sarnoff reported that the two areas of color television, manufacturing and broadcasting, made the largest contribution to RCA's progress.

IBM ENDS BEST YEAR

Business Records Set. Frank H. McCracken, 27 Olden Lane, president of IBM's Information Records Division, has announced that 1966 was the most successful year in the division's 10-year history. New records in production and sales were set.

Operations included the opening of a new Education Center in Princeton, where 300 sales students and 100 executives were taught new techniques in information records management. Mr. Cracken announced plans to expand the center by 50% in 1967.

The year 1966 marked the change of the division's name from Supplies Division to Information Records Division. The new name was thought to suggest more accurately the division's business. At the same time, Mr. McCracken, then general manager, was named president.

PRESS BOOKS HONORED

With Scholarship Awards. Five Princeton University Press books have been chosen for awards by scholarly societies. Among them is "Toward Lexington" by Prof. John Shy of the University history department.

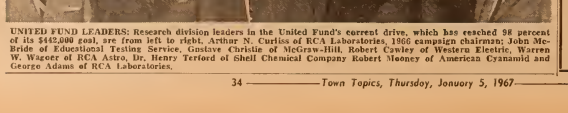
"Toward Lexington," a political and military study of the British Army in America from 1760 to 1775, was named winner of the John H. Dunning Prize of the American Historical Society for the best book on American history of the past two years. Prof. Shy is a West Point graduate who began specializing in military history after serving three years in the infantry.

Two Princeton books shared the American Historical Association's award for the best book on Indian history. The Watumull Prize was awarded to "The Aftermath of Revolt: India 1857-1870" by Thomas R. Metcalf and "Minority Politics in the Punjab" by Baldev Raj Nayar.

The Association's Herbert Baxter Adams Prize for an author who has not yet published extensively was awarded to Gabriel Jackson for "The Spanish Republic and the Civil War 1931-1939." The Academy of Athens chose James Barros' "The Corfu Incident" for its annual prize in Italian history. This is the first time it has honored an American publication.

NEW PRESIDENT: Melvin C. Firman of American Cyanamid has been elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, succeeding R. L. Lenhart.

YEAR-END RECOGNITION: Paul E. Orr Jr. (center) president of Management Planning, presents awards to John B. Weed, Senior vice-president, for 30 years of service and to Miss Joan Aller, analyst, for 10 years at the financial consulting firm. The presentations were made at a year-end reception for Management Planning's employees.



UNITED FUND LEADERS: Research division leaders in the United Fund's current drive, which has reached 98 percent of its $442,000 goal, are from left to right, Arthur N. Curtiss of RCA Laboratories, 1966 campaign chairman; John McBride of Educational Testing Service, Gustave Christie of McGraw-Hill, Robert Cawley of Western Electric, Warren W. Wagoer of RCA Astro, Dr. Henry Terford of Shell Chemical Company Robert Mooney of American Cyanamid and George Adams of RCA Laboratories.

EXECUTIVES!
HOW TO TRANSLATE AMBITION into SUCCESS!
Given a little-known, but intrinsically worthwhile product to sell, a smart executive would avail himself of the best outside services before launching his sales campaign. He'd get the expert advice and powerful support of top research, marketing, sales, and public relations and merchandising firms to promote the product to the best advantage. YOURSELF? What would you do?
NOW MOVE UP
Do what thousands of executives from coast to coast have done for more than three decades. By utilizing the "Haldane System," key executives in almost every field of endeavor — salesmen, engineers, managers, professional men, etc.—have achieved greater satisfaction in their jobs, increased their incomes SUBSTANTIALLY and attained their career goals faster
IF YOU EARN BETWEEN $8,000 AND $48,000 . . .

THO' MONEY'S TIGHTENED ,I'LL NOT BE FRIGHTENED: This one's a cinch, particularly if a 4 bedroom Georgian brick on two acres in the Western Township with two living rooms (each with fireplace) formal dining room, dreamy kitchen, study and 4 full baths might fit the bill at $65,500; or perhaps an attractive older Colonial townhouse with large living room, dining el, sunny kitchen, study, 3 bedrooms and 1½ baths on a delightful small lot at $39,500. In either case for a qualified buyer, the owners will see that financing is no problem.

A MORE CONGENIAL SPOT: we simply cannot think of than the Brearhurst area of Princeton Township for happy family living. Close to schools and shopping and just a short walk from the New York bus, it can't be beat for convenience. And in this fine location we can offer a 4 bedroom traditional two story on a weedsy ¾ acre sloping to a brook. Broad center hall, sunken living room with fireplace; bay-windowed dining room, cozy study, equipped kitchen with breakfast space, panelled family room opening to a screened porch. 2½ baths. In short, everything you need for the happiest of New Years to come. $55,000

IF NOTHING LESS WILL DO: Than a superb country estate in the loveliest, and most protected spot in all the Princeton environs; we have it. Standing (where its first stones were laid in 1720) high on a ridge, the main house commands a view of lush meadow, sweeping to the banks of Stony Brook and into the woods beyond; all part of its own 25 acre park. Inside, a deep entrance hall opens to drawing room, dining room and library, all large; but the piece-de-resistance is an enormous informal living room with rustic beamed ceiling and huge stone fireplace. Kitchen and powder room complete the ground floor; while upstairs, there are 4 bedrooms and two baths. Two room and bath guest apartment, 3 bedroom tenant cottage. 4 car garage and potting house. Nothing else like it available. $185,000

ROOMS WITH A VIEW: A whole house full, in fact. This handsome country house, authentic in every Colonial detail has been designed by its well-known architect to take full advantage of the long vistas across fields and lake. On an acre and a half just west of town, it consists of large informal living room with fireplace, study, formal dining room, super kitchen with adjoining back entry-laundry area, powder room and screened porch. On the second floor, there are 4 bedrooms and 2 baths. Expansion plans call for a formal living room wing with a 5th bedroom and bath above. Now under construction, so you will be able to choose your own colors. $59,500

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP UNDER $20,000. Rare indeed to find a good little house in this price range. This one has living room, dining room, panelled den and kitchen on the first floor, 3 bedrooms and bath up. What a perfect first house for a young couple. Financing available. $19,500

THE PHEASANT AND DEER AMID THE PINES AND MAPLES: make this acre and a half building site at the far end of Snowden Lane a wonderful spot for a glass walled modern house. The depth of the lot permits real seclusion, and the trees are wonderful. $21,500

A PREMIERE IN THE WESTERN SECTION: Offered for the first time, a traditional colonial townhouse located on lands formerly a distiguished Princeton estate and now a quiet, maple shaded Borough neighborhood. Built 19 years ago by Bowers with unusual attention to construction detail, its rooms are arranged in classic center hall style: comfortable large living room with fireplace, booklined study, separate dining room, convenient kitchen with dishwasher and disposal. Four corner bedrooms with excellent closet space two full tile baths. Large storage attic, full cellar, garage. $75,000

Beauty ON THE SQUARE
By Archimedes (Bernard)

What makes customers with perfectly normal hair relentlessly to have a permanent? Chances are, they've had one that's left their hair dry and lifeless. Or, perhaps because some waving lotions contain impurities that attack the hair's natural oils. This is why I have formulated waving lotions which leave natural oils intact, don't dry or age the hair.

With the proper permanent you'll transform an ordinary head of hair into one that looks alive with health and vitality — soft, natural, manageable. So, if you want a permanent that doesn't just wave hair — but glorifies it, too, come to TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 69 Palmer Square West . . . or call 924-3983. I promise you will never hesitate about having a permanent again.

THREE BEDROOMS . . . in a nice wooded neighborhood right in Princeton and very convenient to the shopping center and all public schools, the house has living room, dining room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms and bath. One-car garage. Family room downstairs with laundry and powder room. Included are wall-to-wall carpeting, electric dishwasher, refrigerator and two air-conditioners. The lot is 85 x 150 — quite enough to make you feel like a land owner (if you are just making the transition from a city apartment), and yet not too much lawn to cut. $31,800

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . this lovely home, only 5 years old, is located on a quiet street in a fine neighborhood outside Princeton now much in favor with many staff members of research centers in this area. Colonial in design, the house has entry hall, formal living room, dining room, large modern kitchen, beautiful family room with fireplace and powder room nearby, 2-car attached garage. Upstairs 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Owner transferred, property available at once $34,975

FIVE BEDROOMS . . . brand new Colonial residence on a quiet side road just outside Princeton. The rooms are large, and all the bedrooms are upstairs. This house was designed for a big family, and the children will enjoy a whole acre to play on, as well as the many playmates in the neighborhood. One of the unusual features of this house is the "barbeque pit" in the kitchen — right next to the stove (and both hooded of course). If you want to live in the country, yet be only 5 minutes from the center of town, be sure to look at this house. $39,500

PROVINCE LINE ROAD . . . elegant and spacious one-story home, freshly painted outside, on 2.7 acres of landscaped land in nearby Lawrenceville. Central air-conditioning. Large living room with fireplace which also warms the family room. Small study, separate dining room with bay window and a view of your own woods, spotless modern kitchen, 3 bedrooms and 2 baths. In addition, a newly-added guest room wing, with powder room, which also serves as a family sitting and TV room. Outdoors, a beautifully designed and spacious terrace. 2-car attached garage. (Sole agent) $48,500

Many more fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.
